President Tells Adenauer He Hopes For Early Unification Of Germany To Free Millions

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a 10-minute hospital meeting today he hopes for early action on reunification of Germany "to liberate the 17 million Germans" in the Eastern zone.

Eisenhower, clad in pajamas and sitting up in a chair, received the 80-year-old German leader in the President's room at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

With them were Mrs. Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles, and an interpreter, Henry Kellerman of the State Department.

Had "Best" Night

Adenauer left immediately afterward to fly ot New York City to continue his unofficial U. S. visit.

It was Eisenhower's first meeting with anybody outside of his personal and official families and medical personnel since his operation for an abdommal obstruction last Saturday.

The brief session followed what the doctors reported as Eisenhower's best night since he underwent surgery.

Both Adenauer and Dulles, speaking briefly for newsmen and photographers, described the President's recovery as "a miracle."

"I have asked the doctor to explain this miracle," Adenauer said, "and he has said it is a healthy organism."

"Very Good Talk"

Dulles said Eisenhower "personally brought up" the question of German reunification.

"It was a very good talk," Dulles said. "The President expressed not only the sentiments that he feels toward the Chancellor and that the American people feel toward the German people, but he expressed the hope that

Robert Heflin, 21, R. 3, was reported as in good condition at the Warner Hospital today after suffering first and second degree burns Wednesday afternoon when a gas tank exploded while he was using a torch to dismantle an auto.

Heflin, who was off duty from his employment at Swope's Atlantic Service Station, Carlisle St., was cutting up a car at the Rothhaupt Garage, near Round Top, when the accident took place. He received first and second degree burns of the face, both arms, body and right leg.

SUN PAN-CHENG STUDIES LOCAL SCHOOL METHOD

Sun Pan-cheng, professor of education at Taiwa University in Formosa left here today to return to Columbia Teachers College certain that what he learned here will be of help in reorganizing the secondary school program in Formosa—and the Nationalist Chinese hope, throughout all of China some day.

Sun spent a week here studying the operation of the Adams county school system and attending the sessions of the Summer Discussion Conference of the Schoolmen of Adams, Franklin and York Counties at Gettysburg College.

Here in the U. S. through arrangements made by the International Cooperation Administration, Sun found Adams county an excellent example in action of what he has been studying at Columbia.

He is one of a number of men charged with the responsibility of revamping the Chinese educational system, which "is becoming closer and closer aligned with the educational system in the United States," Sun says. The elementary grades in curriculum and methods are nearly identical with the American system now, and the secondary system is at present being reorganized with the view of bringing it more in line with the American system.

Sun said he found the discussion conference by the schoolmen of interest—"it gives everyone a chance to share his viewpoint with others and better develop his own ideas." He also visited schools and followed through on the organization of Adams county schools with a view of utilizing at least some of the methods in the set-up of Chinese schools.

STORM STARTS TWO BLAZES

An electrical storm Wednesday night resulted in two fires, a freak "run-a-away ball of fire" and electric service cut-offs in upper community homes, according to fire department reports today.

A small chicken house at the home of Joseph Catchings, Biglerville, caught fire with damages amounting to about $500.

A large pine tree in York Springs near the home of Raymond Hamilton, York Springs, was struck by lightning setting fire to the surrounding woods at 7:30 o'clock. About one acre of the woods burned.

A "ball of fire" swept across the floor of the Horace Smith home on Route 15, about one-half mile west of York Springs, but did little or no damage to the home.

Reports from York today said that two persons were injured, roofs of at least eight buildings were blown off and five cars damaged when a severe electrical storm with high winds and hail hit the York area Wednesday evening. Power and telephone lines were knocked down there. Ten minutes of hail caused damage to crops in some areas of York County.

Countians To Attend School In Hanover

The Hanover school board Wednesday night approved requests from two nearby school districts to accept some of their pupils on a tuition basis for the 1956-57 term because of overcrowded conditions in their respective areas

About 20 pupils of Manheim Township School district, who last year attended Littlestown High school, will enter Hanover HHigh school next fall.

McSherrystown School district will send about 25 of their elementary pupils in one to eighth grades who attended Conewago township schools during the 1955-56 term.

KEEFER NAMED CO-ORDINATOR OF SCHOOLMEN; MEET NEXT YEAR

C. P. Keefer, Adams County's assistant superintendent of schools, Wednesday afternoon was elected co-ordinator for the thirteenth annual summer discussion conference of the School men of Adams, Franklin and York Counties, to be held at Gettysburg College next June 11 and 12.

The election and setting of dates for next year's meeting came at the conclusion of the 12th annual conference at the SCA building.

To aid Keefer the educators elected Robert Beard, Chambersburg, as chairman for the conference.

Selon Dockey, New Oxford High School principal and president of the Adams County unit of the Schoolmen's association, presided at the election.

Final discussion by the group Tuesday afternoon found almost general agreement that "segregation is as bad for the intellectually gifted as for other groups."

The entire two-day session this year was based on "Procedures For Meeting The Needs of Gifted Students." There seemed general agreement that spcial classes and honor groups would caus a segregation that would "be bad for everyone concerned."

Much of the discussion Tuesday afternoon was on the question of how to make the brilliant student socially acceptable. The term "A Brain" seems a term of opprobrium among youths, and there is a tendency to ostracize the student who is most conspicuous in brain power, according to the discussion.

At the same time there are brilliant youngsters who are not ostracized but welcomed into the group — to the betterment of all

FIREMEN WILL CONTINUE FUND DRIVE TONIGHT

Further plans for the forthcoming 93rd Battle Anniversary program July 1 through 7 were outlined Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Fire Department at the former CCC camp on W. Confederate Ave.

Glenn Weishaar, general chairman for the observance, asked additional help in completing the annual solicitation of the borough and surrounding area in connection with the observance. Next solicitation will take place starting at 6:30 o'clock tonight, and the drive will be completed next week "if all goes well" Weishaar said.

At the same time he expressed his appreciation to "the people of area who have been most generous with their contributions so far. Apparently nearly everyone has increased his giving to help us meet at least a good part of the cost for the new fire engine that the department is planning to buy to replace the 20-year-old engine that is wearing out."

Meeting On Tuesday

A general meeting of the anniversary committee will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Engine House for final plans. Firemen will be needed at the recreation field June 29, 30, and July 1 to set up the various attractions for the carnival, Weishaar said.

The observance will start at 7 o'clock Sunday night, July 1, with a program at Gettysburg High School at which Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Bucher will speak, and the U. S. Army Air Force Band, including the famed "Singing Sergeants," will present a 90-minute concert.

NEED TO CHANGE U.N. CHARTER IS OUTLINED TO "Y"

A "Reappraisal of the United Nations" was presented by Dr. Robert Bloom of the history department of Gettysburg College in a talk Wednesday afternoon before the YWCA Public Affairs committee and guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Albert Blackburn, in McKnightstown.

The speaker said that 10 years ago the U.N. was a controversial issue but now is accepted by most people. "Few continue to feel that our sovereignty is being fringed upon," he added. Pointing out that the U.N. charter is scheduled for a review this year, the speaker listed four major world changes in the last decade that will have to be taken into account in any charter revision.

"In 1946 there were five great powers, China, France, Great Britain, Russia and the United States. Nationalist China is now focused on the island of Formosa, France is having troubles in North Africa, Great Britain has her troubles in the Middle East, thus making the two great contending powers the United States and Russia," he said.

Other Changes

"The advent of the atomic age since the drawing up of the charter which did not take into consideration the matter of atomic power.

Two Truman Officials Are Found Guilty Of Conspiracy

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly and T Lamar Caudle, top officials in the Truman administration, were convicted today by a federal jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with an income tax evasion case.

The jury of eight men and four women reported at 10:15 a.m. that they had reached a verdict. The jurors had deliberated eight hours and 43 minutes since they took the month-old trial yesterday.

Connelly, 48, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, 52, former Justice Department tax head, could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 each

They were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack the criminal prosecution of [illegible] Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Sachs eventually was indicted and on a plea of guilty was fined $40,000 for income tax evasion but escaped a prison term on health grounds.

The jury had been deliberating only an hour and 15 minutes this morning. It had deliberated seven hours and 28 minutes yesterday and last night before sent to bed by U. S Dist. Judge Rubey M. Hulen.

When jury Foreman Herbert A. Giesler of Ste. Genevieve, Mo., reported to the court the jury had reached a verdict there was a push to the courtroom by spectators and others who had been waiting for the verdict.

In its deliberations yesterday, the jury had called for several exhibits including correspondence between Caudle and the late Drake Watson, a U. S. district attorney here from 1949 to 1951.

State And Borough Police Solve 50 Crimes With Apprehension Of Dozen Juveniles, 20-Year-Old

State and borough police solved approximately 50 crimes of burglary and larceny occurring over the last several months with the apprehension Wednesday of 12 juveniles and the involvement of one adult who is now in Maryland prison.

Four Hagerstown juveniles and 20-year-old Earl Barber, Sharpsburg R. 1, were accused by state police with having participated in "about 22 different burglaries and larcenies" in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee — including three in Adams County.

Borough police took into custody six Littlestown-Gettysburg area juveniles, ranging in age from 15 to 17 who, they said, were involved in 17 burglaries, mostly in Adams County.

Cut On Head Solved Case

Borough and state police combined to take two Erie juveniles into custody who had stolen ten cars in a "joy ride" that ended for one of them when he stopped at the local state police office to ask directions back to Erie.

A cut on the head suffered by one of the six local juveniles while burglarizing Floyd Miller's Service Station, Buford Ave., Monday evening, led to the capture of the "gang" which included five boys from the Littlestown area and one from the Gettysburg area.

The high school students range in age from 15 to 17.

Broke Miller Windows

One of the older youths was placed in detention and the others were released in custody of their parents for appearance at juvenile court following questioning by police that lasted throughout much of Wednesday. The one placed in detention was reported by borough police as having been involved in prior "trouble with the law."

According to borough police, four of the youths took part in the burglary Monday night of the Floyd Miller service station on Buford Ave. One drove the car, another was the "watch" and two entered the service station. By entering a window they found themselves in the "grease rack" section of the service station.

The two inside the garage then sought to open a door to a storeroom portion of the structure. They broke the glass of a door to reach the inside latch, but found other bolts also secured the door and were unable to enter. Then they sought to enter the front of the station and were also foiled in that attempt, when other bolts were found to latch the door in addition to one near a window which they had smashed.

Little Loot In 17 Burglaries

At that moment the borough police car passed the station and the two sought quickly to escape before police returned, as the youths anticipated. The one pushed up the window at the rear of the station and it fell, hitting him on the head. He pushed it up again and again it fell, this time trapping his head inside the frame, shattering the window, and causing a deep gash in the youth's head. The other juvenile in the garage had to crawl out past his confederate and then extricate his companion.

The youths alleged originally that the juvenile had suffered a gash, which took several stitches to close, when a "beer bottle was thrown from a car" while the youths were walking on Chambersburg St. After apprehension by police they told the story of the incident in the Miller station.

Police said that from a total of 17 burglaries admitted the youths "secured probably less than $100 from all their activities."

Three In One Night

One of the youths is believed to have been involved in "nearly all" of the burglaries, while the others participated in different numbers of the burglaries—sometimes two took part, sometimes three or four, some-

SETTLE AUTO DAMAGE ACTION FOR $10,530

Settlement, for $10,530, of the action in trespass brought by Mrs. Tom Patsarikas, Jamaica, N. Y., for herself and children as a result of a fatal accident a half mile north of here on the Harrisburg road last July 16, was approved by the Adams County court today.

Mrs. Patsarikas, her son, Paul, aged five, and daughter, Mary, eight, and her husband were injured in the crash. The husband died two days later at the Warner Hospital here.

The suit was brought against Bessie Emanuel, Gettysburg R. 4, administratrix of the estate of Dale Leroy Carter, operator of the car which struck the Patsarikas auto. Carter was also fatally injured in the accident.

Bank Is Guardian

Mr. Patsarikas and his family were en route home from Gettysburg, where they had visited with friends, when the crash occurred. Mrs. Patsarikas suffered fractures of six ribs, a fracture in the pelvis area and suffered a partial collapse of the left lung. Paul Patsarikas suffered a compound fracture of the left thigh. Mary had a laceration of the forehead, fractures of the right arm and right thigh.

All were patients at the Warner Hospital for lengthy periods and are still receiving some treatment.

The Gettysburg National Bank was named as guardian for the two children in the distribution approved by the court. While the actual settlement for Paul is $1,189, a total of $1,000 will be paid to the bank as guardian while the remainder will go to his mother toward the medical and hospital expenses; similarly the award to Mary is $2,757.66 of which $2,500 will be held by the bank as guardian for the child and the remainder will go to the mother toward medical and hospital expenses.

Division Of Money

The order disclosed that medical, surgical and nursing bills for Paul Patsarikas totalled $1,033.22 which Mrs. Patsarikas had paid, but the mother relinquished $844.22 of that sum in order that a $1,000 payment could be made to her son. Similarly, medical, surgical and nursing bills for Mary Patsarikas totalled $1,257.66 and had already been paid

Severely Burned As Gas Tank Explodes

Robert Heflin, 21, R. 3, was reported as in good condition at the Warner Hospital today after suffering first and second degree burns Wednesday afternoon when a gas tank exploded while he was using a torch to dismantle an auto.

Heflin, who was off duty from his employment at Swope's Atlantic Service Station, Carlisle St., was cutting up a car at the Rothhaupt Garage, near Round Top, when the accident took place. He received first and second degree burns of the face, both arms, body and right leg.

SUN PAN-CHENG STUDIES LOCAL SCHOOL METHOD

Sun Pan-cheng, professor of education at Taiwa University in Formosa left here today to return to Columbia Teachers College certain that what he learned here will be of help in reorganizing the secondary school program in Formosa—and the Nationalist Chinese hope, throughout all of China some day.

Sun spent a week here studying the operation of the Adams county school system and attending the sessions of the Summer Discussion Conference of the Schoolmen of Adams, Franklin and York Counties at Gettysburg College.

Here in the U. S. through arrangements made by the International Cooperation Administration, Sun found Adams county an excellent example in action of what he has been studying at Columbia.

He is one of a number of men charged with the responsibility of revamping the Chinese educational system, which "is becoming closer and closer aligned with the educational system in the United States," Sun says. The elementary grades in curriculum and methods are nearly identical with the American system now, and the secondary system is at present being reorganized with the view of bringing it more in line with the American system.

Sun said he found the discussion conference by the schoolmen of interest—"it gives everyone a chance to share his viewpoint with others and better develop his own ideas." He also visited schools and followed through on the organization of Adams county schools with a view of utilizing at least some of the methods in the set-up of Chinese schools.

STORM STARTS TWO BLAZES

An electrical storm Wednesday night resulted in two fires, a freak "run-a-away ball of fire" and electric service cut-offs in upper community homes, according to fire department reports today.

A small chicken house at the home of Joseph Catchings, Biglerville, caught fire with damages amounting to about $500.

A large pine tree in York Springs near the home of Raymond Hamilton, York Springs, was struck by lightning setting fire to the surrounding woods at 7:30 o'clock. About one acre of the woods burned.

A "ball of fire" swept across the floor of the Horace Smith home on Route 15, about one-half mile west of York Springs, but did little or no damage to the home.

Reports from York today said that two persons were injured, roofs of at least eight buildings were blown off and five cars damaged when a severe electrical storm with high winds and hail hit the York area Wednesday evening. Power and telephone lines were knocked down there. Ten minutes of hail caused damage to crops in some areas of York County.

Countians To Attend School In Hanover

The Hanover school board Wednesday night approved requests from two nearby school districts to accept some of their pupils on a tuition basis for the 1956-57 term because of overcrowded conditions in their respective areas.

About 20 pupils of Manheim Township School district, who last year attended Littlestown High school, will enter Hanover Hhigh school next fall.

McSherrystown School district will send about 25 of their elementary pupils in one to eighth grades who attended Conewago township schools during the 1955-56 term.

KEEFER NAMED CO-ORDINATOR OF SCHOOLMEN; MEET NEXT YEAR

C. P. Keefer, Adams County's assistant superintendent of schools, Wednesday afternoon was elected co-ordinator for the thirteenth annual summer discussion conference of the School men of Adams, Franklin and York Counties, to be held at Gettysburg College next June 11 and 12.

The election and setting of dates for next year's meeting came at the conclusion of the 12th annual conference at the SCA building.

To aid Keefer the educators elected Robert Beard, Chambersburg, as chairman for the conference.

Selon Dockey, New Oxford High School principal and president of the Adams County unit of the Schoolmen's association, presided at the election.

Final discussion by the group Tuesday afternoon found almost general agreement that "segregation is as bad for the intellectually gifted as for other groups."

The entire two-day session this year was based on "Procedures For Meeting The Needs of Gifted Students." There seemed general agreement that spcial classes and honor groups would caus a segregation that would "be bad for everyone concerned."

Much of the discussion Tuesday afternoon was on the question of how to make the brilliant student socially acceptable. The term "A Brain" seems a term of opprobrium among youths, and there is a tendency to ostracize the student who is most conspicuous in brain power, according to the discussion.

At the same time there are brilliant youngsters who are not ostracized but welcomed into the group — to the betterment of all

FIREMEN WILL CONTINUE FUND DRIVE TONIGHT

Further plans for the forthcoming 93rd Battle Anniversary program July 1 through 7 were outlined Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Fire Department at the former CCC camp on W. Confederate Ave.

Glenn Weishaar, general chairman for the observance, asked additional help in completing the annual solicitation of the borough and surrounding area in connection with the observance. Next solicitation will take place starting at 6:30 o'clock tonight, and the drive will be completed next week "if all goes well" Weishaar said.

At the same time he expressed his appreciation to "the people of area who have been most generous with their contributions so far. Apparently nearly everyone has increased his giving to help us meet at least a good part of the cost for the new fire engine that the department is planning to buy to replace the 20-year-old engine that is wearing out."

Meeting On Tuesday

A general meeting of the anniversary committee will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Engine House for final plans. Firemen will be needed at the recreation field June 29, 30, and July 1 to set up the various attractions for the carnival, Weishaar said.

The observance will start at 7 o'clock Sunday night, July 1, with a program at Gettysburg High School at which Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Bucher will speak, and the U. S. Army Air Force Band, including the famed "Singing Sergeants," will present a 90-minute concert.

NEED TO CHANGE U.N. CHARTER IS OUTLINED TO "Y"

A "Reappraisal of the United Nations" was presented by Dr. Robert Bloom of the history department of Gettysburg College in a talk Wednesday afternoon before the YWCA Public Affairs committee and guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Albert Blackburn, in McKnightstown.

The speaker said that 10 years ago the U.N. was a controversial issue but now is accepted by most people. "Few continue to feel that our sovereignty is being fringed upon," he added. Pointing out that the U.N. charter is scheduled for a review this year, the speaker listed four major world changes in the last decade that will have to be taken into account in any charter revision.

"In 1946 there were five great powers, China, France, Great Britain, Russia and the United States. Nationalist China is now focused on the island of Formosa, France is having troubles in North Africa, Great Britain has her troubles in the Middle East, thus making the two great contending powers the United States and Russia," he said.

Other Changes

Two Truman Officials Are Found Guilty Of Conspiracy

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, top officials in the Truman administration, were convicted today by a federal jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with an income tax evasion case.

The jury of eight men and four women reported at 10:15 a.m. that they had reached a verdict. The jurors had deliberated eight hours and 43 minutes since they took the month-old trial yesterday.

Connelly, 48, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, 52, former Justice Department tax head, could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 each.

They were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack the criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Sachs eventually was indicted and on a plea of guilty was fined $40,000 for income tax evasion but escaped a prison term on health grounds.

The jury had been deliberating only an hour and 15 minutes this morning. It had deliberated seven hours and 28 minutes yesterday and last night before sent to bed by U. S. Dist. Judge Rubey M. Hulen.

When jury Foreman Herbert A. Giesler of Ste. Genevieve, Mo., reported to the court the jury had reached a verdict there was a push to the courtroom by spectators and others who had been waiting for the verdict.

In its deliberations yesterday, the jury had called for several exhibits including correspondence between Caudle and the late Drake Watson, a U. S. district attorney here from 1949 to 1951.

State And Borough Police Solve 50 Crimes With Apprehension Of Dozen Juveniles, 20-Year-Old

State and borough police solved approximately 50 crimes of burglary and larceny occurring over the last several months with the apprehension Wednesday of 12 juveniles and the involvement of one adult who is now in Maryland prison.

Four Hagerstown juveniles and 20-year-old Earl Barber, Sharpsburg R. 1, were accused by state police with having participated in "about 22 different burglaries and larcenies" in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee — including three in Adams County.

Borough police took into custody six Littlestown-Gettysburg area juveniles, ranging in age from 15 to 17 who, they said, were involved in 17 burglaries, mostly in Adams County.

Cut On Head Solved Case

Borough and state police combined to take two Erie juveniles into custody who had stolen ten cars in a "joy ride" that ended for one of them when he stopped at the local state police office to ask directions back to Erie.

SETTLE AUTO DAMAGE ACTION FOR $10,530

Settlement, for $10,530, of the action in trespass brought by Mrs. Tom Patsarikas, Jamaica, N. Y., for herself and children as a result of a fatal accident a half mile north of here on the Harrisburg road last July 16, was approved by the Adams County court today.

Mrs. Patsarikas, her son, Paul, aged five, and daughter, Mary, eight, and her husband were injured in the crash. The husband died two days later at the Warner Hospital here.

The suit was brought against Bessie Emanuel, Gettysburg R. 4, administratrix of the estate of Dale Leroy Carter, operator of the car which struck the Patsarikas auto. Carter was also fatally injured in the accident.

Bank Is Guardian

Mr. Patsarikas and his family were en route home from Gettysburg, where they had visited with friends, when the crash occurred. Mrs. Patsarikas suffered fractures of six ribs, a fracture in the pelvis area and suffered a partial collapse of the left lung. Paul Patsarikas suffered a compound fracture of the left thigh. Mary had a laceration of the forehead, fractures of the right arm and right thigh.

All were patients at the Warner Hospital for lengthy periods and are still receiving some treatment.

The Gettysburg National Bank was named as guardian for the two children in the distribution approved by the court. While the actual settlement for Paul is $1,189, a total of $1,000 will be paid to the bank as guardian while the remainder will go to his mother toward the medical and hospital expenses; similarly the award to Mary is $2,757.66 of which $2,500 will be held by the bank as guardian for the child and the remainder will go to the mother toward medical and hospital expenses.

Division Of Money

The order disclosed that medical, surgical and nursing bills for Paul Patsarikas totalled $1,033.22 which Mrs. Patsarikas had paid, but the mother relinquished $844.22 of that sum in order that a $1,000 payment could be made to her son. Similarly, medical, surgical and nursing bills for Mary Patsarikas totalled $1,257.66 and had already been paid

"Pop Foster earned his nickname by being more of a father to McLarnin than a manager. As such, he violated every article of the managers' code. He never overmatched his fighter for mere money. He never 'cut' his fighter with another manager. And there wasn't a promoter in the world who dared suggest a fixed match to the team of Pop Foster and Jimmy McLarnin.

A cut on the head suffered by one of the six local juveniles while burglarizing Floyd Miller's Service Station, Buford Ave., Monday evening, led to the capture of the "gang" which included five boys from the Littlestown area and one from the Gettysburg area.

The high school students range in age from 15 to 17.

Broke Miller Windows

One of the older youths was placed in detention and the others were released in custody of their parents for appearance at juvenile court following questioning by police that lasted throughout much of Wednesday. The one placed in detention was reported by borough police as having been involved in prior "trouble with the law."

According to borough police, four of the youths took part in the burglary Monday night of the Floyd Miller service station on Buford Ave. One drove the car, another was the "watch" and two entered the service station. By entering a window they found themselves in the "grease rack" section of the service station.

The two inside the garage then sought to open a door to a storeroom portion of the structure. They broke the glass of a door to reach the inside latch, but found other bolts also secured the door and were unable to enter. Then they sought to enter the front of the station and were also foiled in that attempt, when other bolts were found to latch the door in addition to one near a window which they had smashed.

Little Loot In 17 Burglaries

At that moment the borough police car passed the station and the two sought quickly to escape before police returned, as the youths anticipated. The one pushed up the window at the rear of the station and it fell, hitting him on the head. He pushed it up again and again it fell, this time trapping his head inside the frame, shattering the window, and causing a deep gash in the youth's head. The other juvenile in the garage had to crawl out past his confederate and then extricate his companion.

The youths alleged originally that the juvenile had suffered a gash, which took several stitches to close, when a "beer bottle was thrown from a car" while the youths were walking on Chambersburg St. After apprehension by police they told the story of the incident in the Miller station.

Police said that from a total of 17 burglaries admitted the youths "secured probably less than $100 from all their activities."

Three In One Night

One of the youths is believed to have been involved in "nearly all" of the burglaries, while the others participated in different numbers of the burglaries—sometimes two took part, sometimes three or four, some-

PARKING LIMIT SET FOR SQUARE IN BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville Burgess John E. Thomas told members of the Biglerville Business Club at their regular meeting Wednesday evening that the Biglerville Borough Council had approved an ordinance limiting parking in the vicinity of the square to two-hour periods. The ruling will become effective as soon as the ordinance is completed and signs posted in the restricted areas.

Thomas indicated that the ordinance was aimed at drivers using the square parking areas in the business district for periods ranging from half a day to a whole day.

When they were requested to study the parking problem nearly a year ago, the borough council asked members of the Biglerville Business Club to recommend a time limit. The club president at the time, Paul F. Osborn, appointed a cimmittee to consider the matter. When the committee failed to act and complaints continued, the borough council passed the two-hour ordinance.

Guest speaker at the dinner meeting Wednesday evening at Ditzler's Restaurant was Dr. Fred Lewis from the Pennsylvania State Fruit Research Laboratory, Arendtsville. Dr. Lewis showed and described slides of scenes he had photographed in the fruit belt of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific States.

Harry Reaver, a Biglerville plumber, was admitted to the club as a new member. Club President William Lerew conducted the meeting with John E. Thomas in charge of the program.

times all of them, according to the story the police were told.

Among the burglaries police said were admitted by the juveniles were those at the Deluxe restaurant, the Twin Kiss frozen custard stand on the Emmitsburg Rd., William Scott's diner and one at Butt's diner, all on the same night about three weeks ago.

Robbed High School

The youths also took part in burglaries at the Gettysburg High School some months ago when $10.95 was stolen from a drawer along with some mechanical drawing equipment which was later thrown away as valueless; a burglary at Orndorff's Service station on Lincoln Highway east; one in Hanover, where a rifle and some shells were stolen; the Chevrolet Garage at Spring Grove; the White Way diner on the Chambersburg Pike where $35 was secured; one "on the other side of Caledonia"; one at Fayetteville; two in Maryland, and three at the Ralph White Garage in Littlestown.

State police said the Hagerstown youths were involved in "at least 22 burglaries" including two in Waynesboro, one in Hagerstown, a "couple" in Chambersburg, Martinsburg, "and even in Tennessee." "In fact," police said, "we think they were in so many they may have forgotten some."

The local burglaries in which the Hagerstown area youths and the adult were involved occurred early on the morning of September 16 and included Rau's Amoco Service Station, Buford Ave. Cigarettes were taken, pinball machines were opened and about $12 was taken from a cash register; Hausford Atlantic Service, 61 Buford Ave., where cigarette and pinball machines were opened, and Fritz's Service Station and Restaurant, near McKnightstown, where a vending machine and a juke box were opened.

The two Erie juveniles were apprehended after taking "about ten cars" in a trip from Erie through much of the eastern section of the country. One of the juveniles dropped in to the local state police station, and asked the officer on duty how to get to Erie. A "hunch" on the part of the policeman paid off. He asked for the youth's owner's card, and he had none. Further questioning led to discovery of the "stolen car joy ride."

WILL EXTEND LOWER PRICE ON 2-QUART MILK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission today took notice of the "widespread consumer acceptance" of milk sold in two-quart containers and said it plans to extend the sale at lower prices.

Commissioner John A. Smith said the program is now permissible in four marketing areas but he said public hearings will be scheduled for all areas.

The two-quart, lower priced containers, Smith said, are now sold in the Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, suburban Philadelphia and Lehigh marketing areas with these results:

Leader Suggested Cut

1. The consumer saves one-half cent per quart on home delivered milk and three-fourths of a cent per quart on store purchased milk.

2. The two-quart container and lower price has increased milk consumption.

Smith said public hearings on the plan have already been held in the Erie and Schuylkill marketing areas but no decision has yet been reached by the commission.

The two-quart containers were previously permitted by the commission but not at a reduced price. The lower price was suggested by Gov. Leader.

TOURING LEADER RAPS IKE'S MD'S

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic Gov. George M. Leader strongly criticized statements by President Eisenhower's physicians today.

Now touring Israel, Leader told the Jerusalem Post:

"It is neither amusing nor entirely accurate for his doctors to keep emphasizing that he is competent to carry on his duties as he falls ill with one thing or another."

Accuses Dulles

Leader said the office of President of the United States demands superhuman physical strength. He asserted that it has been apparent in the last year that Eisenhower no longer has this strength.

Leader also accused Secretary of State Dulles of "weakness." He said Dulles' foreign policy "vacillated and often gave the appearance that decisions were made off the top of his head without benefiting from factual information which was in the hands of career personnel."

Leader said the Democrats have a "good chance" to win the 1956 presidential election "for this time President Eisenhower will be running as a politician, not as a great military hero."

INCREASE GOAL ON BIG BOMBERS

In his testimony, Irvine also expressed the "personal feeling" that this country still holds an over-all lead over Russian air power.

On the House side, the Armed Services Committee disclosed it will look next month into rocket development by the Army and perhaps also by the other services. The study will include specifically the Army's "Jupiter" intermediate range ballistics missile.

Cars Dropping Into Hole At Creek Fording

A number of motorist are warning others against a deep hole dug in Marsh Creek near Natural Dam at a site used for years by many to wash their cars and give smaller children an opportunity to paddle about in shallow water.

A local motorist who Wednesday had $10 damage to his car when it went in over the hood in what once was a shallow pool said persons who towed his car from the stream said they had towed "more than a dozen" from the hole since warm weather began. Others in the area estimated the number of trapped vehicles at "several a day."

The site, a fording for many years, is still fordable for cars going straight from one entrance to the other. Most cars, however, have followed a gradual curve in the stream over the years in order to remain in shallower water. The several foot deep hole was dug in the area that is part of the curve.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority has received an unofficial low bid of $8,247,000 from John McShain, Inc., Arlington, Va., for construction of a state institution for defective delinquents in Jackson Twp., Luzerne County.

MUCH OF U. S. HOT AND HUMID

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Much of the nation continued to steam today in hot and humid weather.

The Weather Bureau promised little relief for most areas, although scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers were forecast.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the high 60s to more than 80 after yesterday's highs which ranged to 100 or more and set records in some sections.

Chicago had 95.4 yesterday, a record for the date. Atlantic City, N.J., had 95, breaking a 76 year old mark. Newark had 94, which tied the record.

TRADE INCREASES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Service trades in the 11-county area surrounding Philadelphia increased their receipts 72 per cent between 1948 and 1954, the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce reports.

The chamber called the report a sign of "solid prosperity" in the Philadelphia, South Jersey and northern Delaware area.

It said yesterday that receipts for such businesses as automobile garages, concessions, barbershops, country clubs, shoe shine establishments and trailer parks had increased nearly 402 million dollars in the six years.

In 1954, only 200 Americans died from diphtheria.

PARKING LIMIT SET FOR SQUARE IN BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville Burgess John E. Thomas told members of the Biglerville Business Club at their regular meeting Wednesday evening that the Biglerville Borough Council had approved an ordinance limiting parking in the vicinity of the square to two-hour periods. The ruling will become effective as soon as the ordinance is completed and signs posted in the restricted areas.

Thomas indicated that the ordinance was aimed at drivers using the square parking areas in the business district for periods ranging from half a day to a whole day.

When they were requested to study the parking problem nearly a year ago, the borough council asked members of the Biglerville Business Club to recommend a time limit. The club president at the time, Paul F. Osborn, appointed a cimmittee to consider the matter. When the committee failed to act and complaints continued, the borough council passed the two-hour ordinance.

Guest speaker at the dinner meeting Wednesday evening at Ditzler's Restaurant was Dr. Fred Lewis from the Pennsylvania State Fruit Research Laboratory, Arendtsville. Dr. Lewis showed and described slides of scenes he had photographed in the fruit belt of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific States.

Harry Reaver, a Biglerville plumber, was admitted to the club as a new member. Club President William Lerew conducted the meeting with John E. Thomas in charge of the program.

times all of them, according to the story the police were told.

Among the burglaries police said were admitted by the juveniles were those at the Deluxe restaurant, the Twin Kiss frozen custard stand on the Emmitsburg Rd., William Scott's diner and one at Butt's diner, all on the same night about three weeks ago.

Robbed High School

The youths also took part in burglaries at the Gettysburg High School some months ago when $10.95 was stolen from a drawer along with some mechanical drawing equipment which was later thrown away as valueless; a burglary at Orndorff's Service station on Lincoln Highway east; one in Hanover, where a rifle and some shells were stolen; the Chevrolet Garage at Spring Grove; the White Way diner on the Chambersburg Pike where $35 was secured; one "on the other side of Caledonia"; one at Fayetteville; two in Maryland, and three at the Ralph White Garage in Littlestown.

State police said the Hagerstown youths were involved in "at least 22 burglaries" including two in Waynesboro, one in Hagerstown, a "couple" in Chambersburg, Martinsburg, "and even in Tennessee." "In fact," police said, "we think they were in so many they may have forgotten some."

The local burglaries in which the Hagerstown area youths and the adult were involved occurred early on the morning of September 16 and included Rau's Amoco Service Station, Buford Ave. Cigarettes were taken, pinball machines were opened and about $12 was taken from a cash register; Hansford Atlantic Service, 61 Buford Ave., where cigarette and pinball machines were opened, and Fritz's Service Station and Restaurant, near McKnightstown, where a vending machine and a juke box were opened.

The two Erie juveniles were apprehended after taking "about ten cars" in a trip from Erie through much of the eastern section of the country. One of the juveniles dropped in to the local state police station, and asked the officer on duty how to get to Erie. A "hunch" on the part of the policeman paid off. He asked for the youth's owner's card, and he had none. Further questioning led to discovery of the "stolen car joy ride."

WILL EXTEND LOWER PRICE ON 2-QUART MILK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission today took notice of the "widespread consumer acceptance" of milk sold in two-quart containers and said it plans to extend the sale at lower prices.

Commissioner John A. Smith said the program is now permissible in four marketing areas but he said public hearings will be scheduled for all areas.

The two-quart, lower priced containers, Smith said, are now sold in the Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, suburban Philadelphia and Lehigh marketing areas with these results:

Leader Suggested Cut

1. The consumer saves one-half cent per quart on home delivered milk and three-fourths of a cent per quart on store purchased milk.

2. The two-quart container and lower price has increased milk consumption.

Smith said public hearings on the plan have already been held in the Erie and Schuylkill marketing areas but no decision has yet been reached by the commission.

The two-quart containers were previously permitted by the commission but not at a reduced price. The lower price was suggested by Gov. Leader.

TOURING LEADER RAPS IKE'S MD'S

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic Gov. George M. Leader strongly criticized statements by President Eisenhower's physicians today.

Now touring Israel, Leader told the Jerusalem Post:

"It is neither amusing nor entirely accurate for his doctors to keep emphasizing that he is competent to carry on his duties as he falls ill with one thing or another."

Accuses Dulles

Leader said the office of President of the United States demands superhuman physical strength. He asserted that it has been apparent in the last year that Eisenhower no longer has this strength.

Leader also accused Secretary of State Dulles of "weakness." He said Dulles' foreign policy "vacillated and often gave the appearance that decisions were made off the top of his head without benefiting from factual information which was in the hands of career personnel."

Leader said the Democrats have a "good chance" to win the 1956 presidential election "for this time President Eisenhower will be running as a politician, not as a great military hero."

Cars Dropping Into Hole At Creek Fording

A number of motorist are warning others against a deep hole dug in Marsh Creek near Natural Dam at a site used for years by many to wash their cars and give smaller children an opportunity to paddle about in shallow water.

A local motorist who Wednesday had $10 damage to his car when it went in over the hood in what once was a shallow pool said persons who towed his car from the stream said they had towed "more than a dozen" from the hole since warm weather began. Others in the area estimated the number of trapped vehicles at "several a day."

The site, a fording for many years, is still fordable for cars going straight from one entrance to the other. Most cars, however, have followed a gradual curve in the stream over the years in order to remain in shallower water. The several foot deep hole was dug in the area that is part of the curve.

Today's Talk

SUSTAINING QUALITIES

There are certain qualities we need to sustain us through life such as honesty, courage, patience, vision and alertness. They are like a good balance in the bank from which we can draw whenever an emergency occurs. One of the great sustaining qualities is our religion regardless of creed. Michael Fairless wrote in her immortal little book, "The Roadmender," these words: "To have faith is to create; to have hope is to call down blessing; to have love is to work miracles."

There would be little, if any, purpose to life if we had no hope, no abiding faith. Sustaining qualities are essential equipment for without them we would continually wander, without aim or confidence. There is a reason and a purpose behind every creation in nature.

Continually scientists are revealing new substances, learning of new ways to sustain life under all conditions. Vitamins were a wonderful discovery for they help one to sustain a nutritious balance physically. How many a business has come through a discouraging situation sustained by the faith and will of its owners.

It was to their sustaining qualities that our pioneers owed their success in reaching their western goals in the early days of America. The bloody tracks of their feet often were left behind, but the caravans kept moving—forward.

Our devotion to literature and the arts is one of the surest means of being sustained—when all about us there are so many fears, so much confusion, and so many problems. How important it is to turn to some pleasurable occupation, like painting, book collecting, or learning about birds and their habits. Winston Churchill has stated it has been his painting that has helped so much to sustain him during his arduous duties.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sacrificing For Others"

FLAG DAY

Fame no greater praise can give,
Fortune can no more bestow,
All beneath its folds who live
Mankind's richest treasure know.

There is nothing strength can win,
Nothing cleverness can do
Greater than that woven in
Freedom's red and white and blue.

Take that banner from the sky,
Haul it down from staff and mast,
Liberty and peace will die
And be memories of the past.

See it dancing in the sun,
North and south and east and west,
Of the triumphs man has won
Silent symbol of his best.

GROOM PLUNGES FROM PLANE ON WEDDING TRIP

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Three investigations were under way today in the death of a bridegroom of one day who plunged 6,000 feet from the open door of a Piedmont Airlines plane last night.

The mangled body of Oren Ase Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, N. C., was found by police in the graveyard of a church six miles north of Shelby, N. C.

The Pruitts, married Tuesday in York, S. C., were on their honeymoon to Asheville to meet Mrs. Pruitt's parents.

Mrs. Pruitt, under a doctor's care at her parents' home, said her husband got up to go to the men's room. She added:

"I heard—it was a little while after that—a big whoosh. The wind was screaming in. Somebody said the door had blown off.

"I thought Oren was in the men's room still. Nobody got up. I was afraid to look back there.

Stewardess Came

"And then a stewardess came to my seat and sat down beside me. I knew then. Nobody ever told me anything. I don't know what happened. I just know he was gone."

Capt. B. B. Slaughter of Winston-Salem, the pilot, said the flight was about 20 minutes out of Charlotte en route to Asheville when the mishap occurred at 6:06 p.m. Slaughter, flying since 1939, said he had never heard of a plane door of this type coming open accidentally.

Piedmont Airlines sent an inquiry team to the scene immediately. C. A. Murray, a Civil Aeronautics Administration inspector, came to Asheville to check into the tragedy. Coroner Ollie Harris of Shelby, impanelled a jury to investigate the mishap.

W. G. McGee, a Piedmont official, said, "There is not a way in the world the door could have been forced open by pressure and the door is not something you can just bump against and open."

The airline said the door is fastened by three bayonet-type latches and that an attendant checks them through small glass windows before flight take-offs. He also said a red light comes on in the pilot's cabin if the latches are not fastened.

McGee said none of the 24 passengers saw the mishap "except one man, who said he saw Pruitt's heels going out the door."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority has awarded a $469,931 contract to Virginia Metal Products Inc., Harrisburg, for installation of movable metal partitions in the Health and Welfare Building in Harrisburg.

A $6,240 contract also has been awarded to Howard P. Foley Co., Harrisburg, for electrical work in connection with the installation.

Church Finds Marble Quarry In Backyard

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Lebanon Presbyterian Church found the answer to its financial problems in its own back yard.

Shortly before 1900, a vein of light grey-pink marble was discovered in the church's 8½-acre lot. For 56 years, the church has leased the property annually for $300 plus royalties as a marble quarry.

"We couldn't have survived without it," said James Arthur, stated clerk of the church session.

FUTURE POWER DEMANDS MEAN USE ALL FUELS

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John W. Evers of the Commonwealth Edison Co. said today future demands for electric energy promise to be so great that all types of fuel will be needed and used.

Evers said in remarks prepared for the National Coal Assn. convention that present demand for electricity probably will be doubled by 1965 and doubled again by 1975.

This means, he said, that the power industry's coal requirements, now running at one-third of all soft coal production, or 140 million tons a year, will rise to 310 million tons by 1965 and 460 million tons by 1975.

Foresees Nuclear Plant

Evers said in a decade or two utility firms will be using nuclear powered plants to produce some of their energy, but he forecast power demands will be so great coal can be assured of a steadily expanding market.

"The market for coal is more stable already," Evers said. "The demands from utilities are growing. The demands from aluminum producers are rising sharply. We seem to have more stable industrial relations at the mines.

"Evidence is mounting that coal can increase its share of the electric energy market at the expense of oil, gas and hydro-power."

Stability Help Cool

Evers said the coal industry's recent labor relations stability, compared with crippling strikes and uncertain supply situations a few years ago, can help build coal back to prosperity.

"There is increasing evidence," he said, "that both the coal operators and the miners appreciate the need for continuity of production. I do not believe that such a millenium is beyond achievement."

Assurance of production continuity, he said, would permit the power industry to reduce its tremendous coal inventories and thus save "a heavy financial burden."

Charles R. Hook, chairman of the Armco Steel Corp., said in another prepared address that the planned 15 million ton expansion of steel making capacity in the next three years will alone create an additional demand for 12 millions tons of coal a year.

SUSTAINING QUALITIES

There are certain qualities we need to sustain us through life such as honesty, courage, patience, vision and alertness. They are like a good balance in the bank from which we can draw whenever an emergency occurs. One of the great sustaining qualities is our religion regardless of creed. Michael Fairless wrote in her immortal little book, "The Roadmender," these words: "To have faith is to create; to have hope is to call down blessing; to have love is to work miracles."

There would be little, if any, purpose to life if we had no hope, no abiding faith. Sustaining qualities are essential equipment for without them we would continually wander, without aim or confidence. There is a reason and a purpose behind every creation in nature.

Continually scientists are revealing new substances, learning of new ways to sustain life under all conditions. Vitamins were a wonderful discovery for they help one to sustain a nutritious balance physically. How many a business has come through a discouraging situation sustained by the faith and will of its owners.

It was to their sustaining qualities that our pioneers owed their success in reaching their western goals in the early days of America. The bloody tracks of their feet often were left behind, but the caravans kept moving—forward.

Our devotion to literature and the arts is one of the surest means of being sustained when all about us there are so many fears, so much confusion, and so many problems. How important it is to turn to some pleasurable occupation, like painting, book collecting, or learning about birds and their habits. Winston Churchill has stated it has been his painting that has helped so much to sustain him during his arduous duties.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sacrificing For Others"

FLAG DAY

Fame no greater praise can give,
Fortune can no more bestow,
All beneath its folds who live
Mankind's richest treasure know.

There is nothing strength can win,
Nothing cleverness can do
Greater than that woven in
Freedom's red and white and blue.

Take that banner from the sky,
Haul it down from staff and mast,
Liberty and peace will die
And be memories of the past.

See it dancing in the sun,
North and south and east and west,
Of the triumphs man has won
Silent symbol of his best.

GROOM PLUNGES FROM PLANE ON WEDDING TRIP

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Three investigations were under way today in the death of a bridegroom of one day who plunged 6,000 feet from the open door of a Piedmont Airlines plane last night.

The mangled body of Oren Ase Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, N. C., was found by police in the graveyard of a church six miles north of Shelby, N. C.

The Pruitts, married Tuesday in York, S. C., were on their honeymoon to Asheville to meet Mrs. Pruitt's parents.

Mrs. Pruitt, under a doctor's care at her parents' home, said her husband got up to go to the men's room. She added:

"I heard—it was a little while after that—a big whoosh. The wind was screaming in. Somebody said the door had blown off.

"I thought Oren was in the men's room still. Nobody got up. I was afraid to look back there.

Stewardess Came

"And then a stewardess came to my seat and sat down beside me. I knew then. Nobody ever told me anything. I don't know what happened. I just know he was gone."

Capt. B. B. Slaughter of Winston-Salem, the pilot, said the flight was about 20 minutes out of Charlotte en route to Asheville when the mishap occurred at 6:08 p.m. Slaughter, flying since 1939, said he had never heard of a plane door of this type coming open accidentally.

Piedmont Airlines sent an inquiry team to the scene immediately. C. A. Murray, a Civil Aeronautics Administration inspector, came to Asheville to check into the tragedy. Coroner Ollie Harris of Shelby, impanelled a jury to investigate the mishap.

W. G. McGee, a Piedmont official, said, "There is not a way in the world the door could have been forced open by pressure and the door is not something you can just bump against and open."

The airline said the door is fastened by three bayonet-type latches and that an attendant checks them through small glass windows before flight take-offs. He also said a red light comes on in the pilot's cabin if the latches are not fastened.

McGee said none of the 24 passengers saw the mishap "except one man, who said he saw Pruitt's heels going out the door."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority has awarded a $469,931 contract to Virginia Metal Products Inc., Harrisburg, for installation of movable metal partitions in the Health and Welfare Building in Harrisburg.

A $6,240 contract also has been awarded to Howard P. Foley Co., Harrisburg, for electrical work in connection with the installation.

Church Finds Marble Quarry In Backyard

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Lebanon Presbyterian Church found the answer to its financial problems in its own back yard.

Shortly before 1900, a vein of light grey-pink marble was discovered in the church's 8½-acre lot. For 56 years, the church has leased the property annually for $300 plus royalties as a marble quarry.

"We couldn't have survived without it," said James Arthur, stated clerk of the church session.

It begins to look as if the rest of the National League has caught up with Robin Roberts, the ace of Philadelphia's pitching staff who may miss 20 victories for the first time in seven years.

Milwaukee's Braves, who had lost 13 of 23 run-ins with Roberts, greeted Robin like a favorite cousin last night, rocking him from the mound with a seven-run fourth inning that handed the big righthander his eighth defeat against only five victories.

It was the fourth straight setback for Roberts, who hasn't lost that many in a row since 1953. Never in his six straight 20-or-more-victory seasons was Robin shackled with a losing record at this stage of the schedule. He's had only one losing year in baseball—when he was 7-9 as a rookie with the Phils in 1948.

Only one other NL game was played, with the Chicago Cubs winning No. 10 in the last 13 on a 6-5 decision over the New York Giants. Rain postponed the first-place battle between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Brooklyn and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees for the first time in seven tries 7-5 and edged into second, four games back of the Yanks, as Cleveland and Boston battled to an 11-inning 8-8 tie halted by rain.

Detroit bopped Baltimore 2-0 on out of the cellar with 21 hits that beat Washington 13-4 and dropped the Senators into last place.

The Braves snapped a three-game losing streak in their 14-hit attack against the last place Phils. Roberts absorbed nine of the blows, including three tripies by Danny O'Connell that tied a major league record. Del Crandall and Ed Mathews homered for five runs in the big fourth.

Three New York errors totaled five unearned runs for the Cubs, who counted a three-run homer by Eddie Miksis as Bob Rush won his sixth with ninth-inning relief. Jim Hearn lost it for a 3-6 mark.

The White Sox won the hard way, giving up three unearned runs with four errors and overcoming a 3-1 deficit in the fourth on Ron Northey's pinch three-run homer off starter Bob Turley. Larry Doby made it 5-4 in the fifth with his first home run of the season and Luis Aparico packed it away with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Babe Ruth "caught up" with Mickey Mantle, who hasn't hit a home run in a week. The Mick has 21 after 53 games. The Babe had the same number in the same number of games in his record 60-homer year of 1927.

Jackie Jensen socked home four runs for Boston, slashing a bases-loaded triple to tie it in the fourth. Vic Wertz, who drove in five runs, had given Cleveland an 8-5 lead in the top of the fourth with his 14th homer, a three-run jolt off reliefer Dave Sisler and his second of the game.

Detroit had just one hit off Billy Loes, making his first start for the Orioles since his purchase from Brooklyn, before he retired in the seventh. Maxwell's 11th homer was the first this season off reliefer George Zuverink.

Charley Thompson and Vic Power each had five hits for the A's while Hector Lopez and Gus Zernial homered in the hit parade against four Washington pitchers.

GIAMBRA WINS OVER SULLIVAN

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joey Giambra wants a couple of more fights under his belt before he hurls any challenges at middleweight champion Ray Robinson and the top contenders in the talent-laden division.

A high-ranking contender two years ago when he went into the Army, the picture - punching youngster showed that's he's getting set to vault back into the top 10. He slammed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over rugged John L. Sullivan of England in a nationally televised (ABC) fight last night.

Giambra staggered the brawny blond Briton in the seventh and eighth rounds with deftly timed left hooks to the jaw of his ever-pressing rival. Those were the big moments of the hard fought scrap. Joey bled from the nose in the second round. Sullivan was cut over the left eye in the fifth.

Joey, a 9-5 favorite, was outweighed, 159½ to 156.

The officials voted for Giambra this way: Referee Joe Palmer, 6-4; Judge Paul Cummins 5-4-1, and Judge Dick Albino 6-3-1. The AP card had Giambra ahead, 5-4-1.

ROBIN ROBERTS PUZZLED OVER LOSING STREAK

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Robin Roberts, the Phillies' meal ticket for the last six years, lost his fourth game in a row last night, but what's worse, he can't figure out what he's doing wrong.

The hit-hungry Milwaukee Braves, who had lost 10 of their last 13 games, were the latest to drive the 29-year-old righthander to cover, blasting him for nine hits, including three consecutive triples by Danny O'Connell, and six runs in 3 1-3 innings.

Roberts, considered as one of the game's greatest righthanders and winner of 20 or more games for the last six years, was the picture of dejection after his latest attempt to curb his losing ways.

He offered a half-hearted smile to teammates who tried to cheer him up as he sat puffing on a cigar, thinking over a question put to him.

"I wish I knew what's wrong," he said. "I just don't know. I'm just not doing the job. The rest of 'em are helping us out and it's a good thing they are. I'm lousy—just plain lousy."

Asked if he had been bothered by frequent and recurrent trade rumors that had him going to the Redlegs and then to the Cards the past few days, Roberts replied:

"To tell you the truth, I hadn't heard most of them. Oh, occasionally I'd hear a rumor here and there, but they haven't bothered me."

A year ago today Roberts' record was 9-5 and his earned run average a thrifty 2.23. He went on to post a final won-lost mark of 23-14. Today, his record reads 5-8 and his ERA a fat 5.09. Roberts hasn't won a game since May 24 when he beat Brooklyn, 6-4, at Philadelphia.

Whitlow Wyatt, former Dodger mound mainstay and now pitching coach for the Phillies, shrugged his shoulders when asked what's ailing Roberts.

"He told me a few days ago he thought he had lost his rhythm," Wyatt said. "When a pitcher loses his rhythm, his timing delivering the ball, he's in the same kind of a slump that a batter goes through when his timing is off. Then again, he might be missing the spots. I don't think he's pressing. He's been around too long."

"Don't forget," Wyatt added, "He's 29 and while that may not be old, he's been working 300 or more innings for a long time. That takes a lot out of a pitcher."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Fairfield High May Join Soccer Loop

The York-Adams County Scholastic Soccer League held a special meeting at East Berlin High School Wednesday evening and it was reported that a new team might be entered in the loop next season. Fairfield must await approval by its school board and thus no definite decision will be forthcoming until fall.

Nothing further was reported on the fact that several teams might drop from the league and in fact it was noted that a possibility exists that another York county school might be interested in joining.

Next meeting will be held on September 10 at Dover High School and the drawing of a schedule will be done at that time. Wednesday night marked the final appearance of President Jake Divinny at a meeting. The former East Berlin mentor will assume a position at New Oxford in September.

REDLEG PILOT IS DEFINITELY SOLD ON BRAGAN

CINCINNATI (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, who may be the best manager in the National League, is convinced Bobby Bragan, freshman pilot who has done such a splendid job masterminding the Pittsburgh Pirates into first place, will be on the big league scene for many years.

"That fellow (Bragan) has shown me he has what it takes to manage successfully up here," Tebbetts said last night after the scheduled game between his Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates had been postponed because of a thunderstorm.

"He's not afraid to gamble and he's got the guts of a burglar. He knows what he's doing out there all the time and he's always thinking ahead. More important he's got the courage of his convictions."

Same Type Managers

Tebbetts' enthusiastic endorsement of Bragan is understandable because they are the same type of managers. Both are deep strategists, both like to try innovations such as a four-man outfield against sluggers like Stan Musial and a five-man infield in an effort to frustrate an attempted bunt. Neither is hesitant about pulling out his ace pitcher for a pinch hiter in early innings, nor going against the book, or law of averages, when they believe the situation merits it.

"I believe the most important contribution Bragan has made to the Pittsburgh club," Tebbetts said, "is giving them confidence. He took a bunch of perennial cellar dwellers and made them believe they were as good as the other guys.

"It took me three years to convince my guys they were a first division club, that's what Leo Durocher gave to a ball club — belief. Belief in themselves. That's what Bragan has given to his club."

EXAMINE HURLER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today they've sent pitcher Dick Hall to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore where he will undergo an examination by Dr. George Bennett.

Hall, a righthander, has had a sore arm dating back to last winter when he pitched in Mexico. He has pitched in only one game since May 13 when he started against the Philadelphia Phillies. He has a 3-0 record.

Roberts, considered as one of the game's greatest righthanders and winner of 20 or more games for the last six years, was the picture of dejection after his latest attempt to curb his losing ways.

He offered a half-hearted smile to teammates who tried to cheer him up as he sat puffing on a cigar, thinking over a question put to him.

"I wish I knew what's wrong," he said. "I just don't know. I'm just not doing the job. The rest of 'em are helping us out and it's a good thing they are. I'm lousy—just plain lousy."

Asked if he had been bothered by frequent and recurrent trade rumors that had him going to the Redlegs and then to the Cards the past few days, Roberts replied:

"To tell you the truth, I hadn't heard most of them. Oh, occasionally I'd hear a rumor here and there, but they haven't bothered me."

A year ago today Roberts' record was 9-5 and his earned run average a thrifty 2.23. He went on to post a final won-lost mark of 23-14. Today, his record reads 5-8 and his ERA a fat 5.09. Roberts hasn't won a game since May 24 when he beat Brooklyn, 6-4, at Philadelphia.

Whitlow Wyatt, former Dodger mound mainstay and now pitching coach for the Phillies, shrugged his shoulders when asked what's ailing Roberts.

"He told me a few days ago he thought he had lost his rhythm," Wyatt said. "When a pitcher loses his rhythm, his timing delivering the ball, he's in the same kind of a slump that a batter goes through when his timing is off. Then again, he might be missing the spots. I don't think he's pressing. He's been around too long."

"Don't forget," Wyatt added, "He's 29 and while that may not be old, he's been working 300 or more innings for a long time. That takes a lot out of a pitcher."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Fairfield High May Join Soccer Loop

The York-Adams County Scholastic Soccer League held a special meeting at East Berlin High School Wednesday evening and it was reported that a new team might be entered in the loop next season. Fairfield must await approval by its school board and thus no definite decision will be forthcoming until fall.

Nothing further was reported on the fact that several teams might drop from the league and in fact it was noted that a possibility exists that another York county school might be interested in joining.

Next meeting will be held on September 10 at Dover High School and the drawing of a schedule will be done at that time. Wednesday night marked the final appearance of President Jake Diviney at a meeting. The former East Berlin mentor will assume a position at New Oxford in September.

REDLEG PILOT IS DEFINITELY SOLD ON BRAGAN

CINCINNATI (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, who may be the best manager in the National League, is convinced Bobby Bragan, freshman pilot who has done such a splendid job masterminding the Pittsburgh Pirates into first place, will be on the big league scene for many years.

"That fellow (Bragan) has shown me he has what it takes to manage successfully up here," Tebbetts said last night after the scheduled game between his Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates had been postponed because of a thunderstorm.

"He's not afraid to gamble and he's got the guts of a burglar. He knows what he's doing out there all the time and he's always thinking ahead. More important he's got the courage of his convictions."

Same Type Managers

Tebbetts' enthusiastic endorsement of Bragan is understandable because they are the same type of managers. Both are deep strategists, both like to try innovations such as a four-man outfield against sluggers like Stan Musial and a five-man infield in an effort to frustrate an attempted bunt. Neither is hesitant about pulling out his ace pitcher for a pinch hiter in early innings, nor going against the book, or law of averages, when they believe the situation merits it.

"I believe the most important contribution Bragan has made to the Pittsburgh club," Tebbetts said, "is giving them confidence. He took a bunch of perennial cellar dwellers and made them believe they were as good as the other guys.

"It took me three years to convince my guys they were a first division club, that's what Leo Durocher gave to a ball club — belief. Belief in themselves. That's what Bragan has given to his club."

EXAMINE HURLER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today they've sent pitcher Dick Hall to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore where he will undergo an examination by Dr. George Bennett.

Hall, a righthander, has had a sore arm dating back to last winter when he pitched in Mexico. He has pitched in only one game since May 13 when he started against the Philadelphia Phillies. He has a 3-0 record.

The Taneytown Cards defeated Libertytown 3-2 Tuesday evening on the latter's field in a Frederick-Carroll Little League game.

Taneytown was limited to two hits while Libertytown secured five, one of which was a homerun by J. Wright.

GAY FURNITURE FOR CHILD'S ROOM

The Associated Press

Children are living it up in the home these days. Parents get just as much fun out of furnishing a room for their offspring as they do for themselves.

But it wasn't always thus. Time was when children took an old cast-off furniture — as is. These days energetic parents scrape, sand and paint old things to harmonize with the home decor and to keep youngsters happy, if they must get along with leftovers.

Most times, however, parents try to furnish a room to the child's taste, if they can afford it. There is another advantage to their generosity — children's furnishings are built for durability as well as comfort and beauty.

Washable plastics in wallpaper, curtains, floor coverings and furniture make the modern child's room a joy. Furniture is designed too with more oomph than the king-sized variety in many instances. One sleek child's table by Noguchi, the Japanese designer, has a white melamine plastic laminate surface on an open-scale base that has charm but is also indestructible. Chairs designed by Bertoi of resilient wire frames covered in white pieces.

NORFOLK, Mass. (AP) — The male debating team, defending the negative of the resolution "That Women Have a Natural Superiority over Men" was adjudged the winner over the feminine team.

The women were students at Emerson College, Boston.

The men — inmates of Norfolk State Prison Colony.

Police Suggests Helpful Remedy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "Are you a cop?" a childish voice on the telephone asked Jim Terry a juvenile officer.

Terry said he was.

"Well, my mother told me she's going to spank me," the voice said, "so I told her I'd call the cops and tell them about her threat."

Terry asked the boy to put his mother on. "I've never been so embarrassed," she said. "He's only seven and full of mischief."

"Lady," said the policeman, "I have only one suggestion: Spank him."

The lady obligingly left the phone off the hook while she followed the advice and Terry heard the windup, with sound effects.

FOSSIL PUZZLES UNIVERSITY MEN

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — When Warren Condray's farm pond overflowed the water washed away soil to bare a big backbone. He wrote Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) about it, and now investigators have a puzzle.

No question of foul play was involved — at least not more recently than 85 million years ago.

Carlson sent Condray's letter to the University of Kansas. Dr. Robert Wilson, associate curator of the university's museum of natural history, and Russell Camp, preparator of vertebrate paleontology, hurried to Condray's farm.

They dug up the rock, hauled it to the campus, and found they had the fossil remains of a small dinosaur — an armored one, between 12 and 15 feet long, which probably weighed as much as a full-sized steer.

Defies Identification

A dinosaur, of course — but what species? The scientists couldn't tell and today, Wilson reported, they still can't. The brute so far has defied identification.

"It almost certainly belongs to a new species," Wilson said. "It comes from a formation older than that ordinarily associated with armored dinosaurs."

Kansas' chalkbeds, once the bottom of an inland sea, are renowned among paleontologists as a rich source of marine fossils, but landlubbers like dinosaurs are rare there. Only five or six have turned up.

It'll take at least a year for the university's fossil men to peel the newcomer from the rock. They'll know definitely then whether the remains represent a new, early.

The find is placed in the Dakota formation of the early cretaceous period, or about 100 to 85 million years ago.

TO THE TABLE

New melamine table wear is now produced in a color on color process. Heretofore the dinnerware was available only in solid colors. It will permit two-tone designs in which a pure white glazed interior, the eating surface, will stand out in bold relief against the colored outside. A cup might be white inside and red outside, the saucer has a white interior faced with the same red. One modern flair being used is an iridescent color band formed where two colors join on the edge of a piece. All this plastic ware is said to be highly resistant to breaking and cracking.

PEANUTS ADD INTEREST TO "DULL MENUS"

PORTALES, N. M. (AP) — Want to pep up your meals? Try peanuts, advises Editor Gordon Greaves of the Portales Daily News, probably the world's most enthusiastic peanut booster.

Greaves, known locally as "Goober Gordon," advocates the use of peanuts in practically every dish, commenting:

"At our house we use peanuts in biscuits, hamburgers and the morning bowl of oatmeal. The delicate flavor of the peanuts imparts a new interest to these foods. Our idea is that peanuts will improve the flavor of almost anything that is fit to eat in the first place."

The Daily News frequently carries full pages of peanut recipes, suggesting such viands as peanut and cottage cheese loaf, peanut salad, fried bananas with peanuts, peanut butter pancakes, peanut pie, peanut stuffing, peanut stew and peanut soup. Here are a few recipes from a recent issue:

PEANUT PIE

(Mrs. A. F. Dunsworth, Portales)

4 whole eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 cup corn syrup
1 cup chopped raw Valencia peanuts
1 cup shredded coconut

Beat eggs, mix with other ingredients, and pour in unbaked pie shell, and bake at 400 degrees until firm. This makes 1 large, or two small pies.

Pie crust —

1tsp. salt, 2/3 cup shortening, 2 cups flour, 1/3 cup cold water.

PEANUT BUTTER PANCAKES

(Mrs. M. A. Padgett, Crawfordsville, Ind.)

Use any good pancake flour and add a large spoonful of either crunchy or smooth peanut butter to the batter. She also suggests peanut butter in celery, the same as you fill celery with cheese, and "toast is wonderful, spread with honey and peanut butter."

PEANUT STUFFING

(Mrs. Mamie Cook, Floyd)

1 large loaf day-old bread crumbs, cut in small cubes
3 cups crumbled cold cornbread
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups finely sliced celery
1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup butter, margaine or strained bacon fat, melted
1½ teaspoons rubbed sage
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon Monosodium Glutamate
½ cup giblet stock or water

Toss all together lightly. Pack lightly into turkey. This recipe makes enough to stuff a 10-12 pound turkey.

THEIR GOOSE COOKED

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two men swiped a goose from a duck pond here but they laid an egg.

The goose was Egyptian, the duck pond was part of the Baltimore Zoo and watching the whole thing was Thomas Greene, a Baltimore park policeman.

Blaine Rhoton, 34, and John C. Burnett, 35, were fined $75 each for the theft, and for disorderly conduct to boot.

"BOMB" SCARE DELAYS RETURN OF 4 RUSSIANS

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight homeward-bound Russian church leaders were delayed four hours by a phony bomb scare at Idlewild Airport but took off early today after the all-clear was given.

The Russian clergymen and 29 other passengers left on a KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation at 1:50 a.m., for Amsterdam, Holland, after a search of the plane by the police bomb squad.

The Russian clerics spent 11 days in the United States.

The group, including Metropolitan Nikolai of Moscow, were already seated in the plane when an airline passenger clerk received an anonymous telephone call that a bomb had been placed aboard.

Plane, Baggage Examined

The churchmen and the other passengers were led from the plane, and it was taxied to a remote section of the field. Police also examined all baggage and checked the surrounding area.

Nikolai later said the Russians had not been worried.

Before the bomb scare, Nikolai had told newsmen at the airport: "We don't have as wide a range of activities as you do here because we work alongside of the atheists who carry on their anti-religious propaganda, and we have to meet it."

When asked about this apparent reference to Russian Communists, the Metropolitan said the "atheists" present a "formidable" obstacle to churches in Russia.

Rich Impressions

The Russian clergymen were invited to the United States by the National Council of Churches, the nation's largest Protestant and Eastern orthodox group. A group of American church leaders visited Russia recently to start the exchange.

Nikolai said he was leaving with "the richest, happiest and varied impressions," and that the Russians' visit laid "the foundation of our friendship" which will be followed by "further contact for further strengthening our brotherly fellowship."

The Russian delegation and the National Council of Churches had said earlier in a joint statement that progress had been made toward mutual understanding but there still are disagreements between the church leaderships of the two countries.

PETRILLO SAYS IKE IS FRIEND; SEES VICTORY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, calls President Eisenhower "a friend in the White House" who is likely to be re-elected.

He had warm praise for Eisenhower at the federation's convention here yesterday as he introduced the president's labor secretary, James Mitchell.

His introduction of Mitchell was warm too.

"If Eisenhower is re-elected, and it looks like he's going to be re-elected, I hope he reappoints Jim Mitchell," said Petrillo.

Petrillo told the delegates he has been a Democrat all his life and "as a Democrat I voted against President Eisenhower, but, he added: "I want to say I have never talked to man as friendly and as understanding about our problems as President Eisenhower."

Oppose Huge Tax

Later his answer to a newsman's question whether he might vote for Eisenhower in November was, it would depend on the platforms of the candidates.

Mitchell told the conventioners he believed the efforts by the federation to eliminate the 20 per cent cabaret tax "will surely and eventually bear fruit because if I ever saw a cause that was righteous, it is that one."

The federation is against the tax as being responsible for loss of work by musicians.

Petrillo also read a telegram from Eisenhower during yesterday's proceedings in which the President commended the federation for "contributing to the well-being of all Americans."

ASSUMES NEW DUTIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Lt. Col. Albert F. Dahlstrom today began his first full day as deputy commissioner of the Pennsylvania state police force.

Dahlstrom, formerly a captain in charge of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information, was sworn into the office yesterday by Henry E. Harner, commonwealth secretary.

The post pays $13,500 a year.

LONG MEMORY

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Nine months after two pairs of J. P. Brown's shoes were stolen from his car he spotted someone walking down the street with shoes that looked familiar.

The man said he bought them second-hand, and police arrested the dealer on a charge of petty theft.

Brown is now looking for the other pair.

PETRILLO SAYS IKE IS FRIEND; SEES VICTORY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, calls President Eisenhower "a friend in the White House" who is likely to be re-elected.

He had warm praise for Eisenhower at the federation's convention here yesterday as he introduced the president's labor secretary, James Mitchell.

His introduction of Mitchell was warm too.

"If Eisenhower is re-elected, and it looks like he's going to be re-elected. I hope he reappoints Jim Mitchell," said Petrillo.

Petrillo told the delegates he has been a Democrat all his life and "as a Democrat I voted against President Eisenhower, but, he added: "I want to say I have never talked to man as friendly and as understanding about our problems as President Eisenhower."

Oppose Huge Tax

Later his answer to a newsman's question whether he might vote for Eisenhower in November was, it would depend on the platforms of the candidates.

Mitchell told the conventioners he believed the efforts by the federation to eliminate the 20 per cent cabaret tax "will surely and eventually bear fruit because if I ever saw a cause that was righteous, it is that one."

The federation is against the tax as being responsible for loss of work by musicians.

Petrillo also read a telegram from Eisenhower during yesterday's proceedings in which the President commended the federation for "contributing to the well-being of all Americans."

SARNOFF TELLS OF HEAVY NBC LOSSES IN TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Sarnoff, replying to contentions of "profiteering" by television networks, said today NBC's TV network lost over four million dollars in its first eight years.

The president of National Broadcasting Co. was testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee which is considering proposals for federal regulation of radio-TV networks.

Sarnoff said that last year was the first that NBC's TV network made money—what he termed a "modest" cumulative net income of $2,315,000.

Wants Federal Control

"These facts show," Sarnoff said, "that any claim of exorbitant profits from this high risk business is not in accordance with the economic realities."

Sen. Bricker of Ohio, top Republican on the Commerce Committee, has contended that NBC and CBS are making fabulous profits and have established an "economic stranglehold" on the TV industry. Bricker suggested that TV networks be brought under federal regulation.

Sarnoff said regulation would only "upset the delicate balance of network advertising, affiliation relationships and service to the public."

"Not In Public Interest"

"Moreover," he said, "various types of regulation which have been proposed could not be effected without regulating advertisers.

"Such a step would raise the most serious problems, not only for television, but for the American enterprise system."

Sarnoff added:

"I am confident that when this committee has all the evidence it will conclude that a restriction of the network operation would not be in the public interest."

concerned, the group and especially the gifted student, according to the views presented by various educators.

Oppose Honor Society

Some educators oppose National Honor Society if it operates as a club of gifted students. Some approved the honor society if it was considered just an honor given to some students — like getting a letter in football.

Student club activities should never be based upon intellectual standing — but rather on interest, the group agreed.

The discussion also pointed up that "The Brain," who may be brilliant intellectually but deficient in social and athletic ability is generally ostracized by the other youngsters to the detriment of "The Brain" and society. But brilliant students who are also good athletes, or have good personalities have no such label put on them and are highly regarded by their fellow students. One educator said that athletics demand great intelligence and that a school has its best teams when the classes generally are of a higher intellectual level. A number of the teachers held that gifted students would help in teaching, with out suffering any ostracism from the other students. "Frequestly the gifted children can communicate with the less gifted much better than an adult teacher. And education is simply a matter of communication," it was said.

Serve Self, Society

General agreement was reached that gifted children should be challenged to greater mental and leadership activity, that their abilities should be put more to use. Dr. Albert I. Oliver, associate professor of education, University of Pennsylvania, said, "appropriate guidance and instruction shoud be given so that the gifted child can, with his full powers, serve both himself and society." Segregating the gifted in special classes, the teachers were agreed, would prevent the full development of the gifted.

Argentina Revokes Martial Law State

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's provisional government appeared confident today it has the country well under control.

This was the conclusion drawn from the lifting of the martial law imposed during last weekend's revolt. But one Cabinet member said privately it is known that not all the active enemies of the government have been executed or arrested.

Firing squads carried out 27 death sentences under the state of martial law, and the revocation order said specifically there would be no more executions. The emergency decree was put in effect shortly after the revolt broke out Saturday.

STOCKS STEADY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market maintained a fairly steady position today in the early afternoon.

The market was narrowly mixed at the start, and prices later spread over a range of around 2 points higher to a point lower.

BANK TELLER FOILS HOLDUP

NEW YORK (AP)— A tiny, pretty woman bank teller, tipped off by a courageous porter's wink as she came to work this morning, thwarted a Queens bank holdup by two tough-talking, heavily

The teller, Rose Wing, 5-foot, 25-year-old Chinese, ran screaming from the bank.

The two robbers who had been holding porter Arthur Hampton at gun and knife point and threatening to kill head teller Peter Rufolo if he didn't give the bank vault combination, raced from the bank.

Men Got Away

The bank, a branch of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank, is situated in a heavily congested district of Queens.

The holdup men got away.

They had appeared at the bank when the porter came to work at 7 a.m. They stuck a gun in his back and ordered: "Go ahead—don't stall. Don't do anything that isn't right or I'll plug you."

At 8:25 a.m., Rufolo came to work and, under orders of the robbers, Hampton let him in.

Just then the woman teller knocked on the door, and Hampton was directed to let her in.

But, he told police later, as he did so "I had a real sad look on my face like I wanted to cry. I winked at her, and when I winked she ran."

Redevelopment Plan For Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The City Planning Commission has announced a program of urban redevelopment for all of center city between the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers and covering 14 blocks north and south. The commission said the program would take 10 to 20 years for completion.

Albert M. Greenfield, chairman of the commission, said the project would be dependent largely upon private investment. Federal redevelopment money, federal mortgage insurance and state and city funds would make up a part of the financing, he said.

Greenfield said that about 25 per cent of the buildings in the area would have to be torn down. A number of others would be rebuilt, he said.

Meyner Signs Record Budget In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner today signed into law a record high 323 million dollar budget for New Jersey in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

The governor vetoed $129,500 in items the Republican-controlled Legislature had inserted into his budget requests.

The new budget represents a 26 million dollar increase over last year's. It appropriates $319,834,671 for spending beginning July 1. A companion budget bill appropriates $3,294,921 for expenses run up in the current fiscal year.

SAYS ALGERIAN REBELS WEAKER

ALGIERS (AP)—French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste asserted today that nationalist rebels no longer are capable of staging big operations against French forces in Algeria.

His statement coincided with reports of bombings, knifings and burning of arms throughout the country yesterday. There also were several clashes between rebel bands and French units in which the French reported at least 68 insurgents killed.

"To be sure," Lacoste said in a newspaper interview, "it is far from my thoughts to tell you that confidence and order are reestablished."

DUTCH PAPERS DENY STORY ON FAITH HEALER

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Dutch newspapers today denied speculation abroad that a faith healer's reported influence over Queen Juliana might force her abdication.

The local editors, who had held off several days on the story after it broke in a German news magazine, branded reports of the faith healer's sway over Juliana an invasion of the royal privacy.

They denied there was any constitutional conflict between the Queen and the government.

No Effect On Vote

The reports had no apparent effect on the Dutch parliamentary elections yesterday. The Communist newspaper De Waarheid printed the story here first in apparent hope of touching off a political bomb. But the Reds in the latest balloting lost 2 of the 6 seats they had held.

The story came out in the German weekly Der Spiegel at Frankfurt. It said Juliana fell under the influence of 61-year-old Miss Greet Hofmans after Prince Bernhard brought her to the palace eight years ago to treat their partially blind daughter Princess Maria Cristina, now 9.

The article alleged that Miss Hofmans later extended her influence to matters of state. It said a breach developed between the Queen and her husband after h barred the healer from the palace.

Most Dutch papers labeled the affair a private concern of the Queen and no one's business.

President Tells

action would soon be taken to liberate the 17 million Germans now in the Eastern zone of Germany."

That was the principal point Eisenhower brought up, Dulles reported.

Accompanied by Dulles, Adenauer arrived at the hospital at 9:45 a.m. and was taken directly to Eisenhower's third-floor suite. The two were greeted by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Walter Reed's commanding general, and James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary.

Dulles and Adenauer joined yesterday in a statement assailing the Soviet Union's "brutal" partition of Germany, and Eisenhower followed up today.

Today's first medical bulletin, out at 8:10 a.m., ahead of Adenauer's visit, said:

"The President had a very comfortable night. He had a good night's sleep.

"His temperature is 99, his pulse is 88, his blood pressure is 118 over 70, his respiration is 20—all of which indicate a normal reaction at this time."

Discussing the President's six hours of sleep, Hagerty said:

"Last night both the decompression tube and the intravenous tube were taken off and he was able to sleep without any tubes attached to his body at all."

As for the President's ability to digest the beef broth, Hagerty said Eisenhower had had no trouble that the doctors can detect.

YOUTH DROWNS

BAINBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Dale E. Boose, 18, of Quarryville, Pa., drowned yesterday while attempting to swim about a quarter mile to shore from a rowboat at Riverside Beach.

Eastern League

Last night it was hitting, not pitching, that accounted for an Allentown Redbird victory.

Moises Camacho's bases-loaded single in the ninth broke a 2-2 deadlock and ended a battle of homers as the birds downed the Johnstown Johnnies 3-2.

The victory gave Allentown a game-and-a-half lead over the second-place Binghamton Triplets, who split a home twinbill with the Albany Senators, winning 14-4 then losing 10-4.

Bobby Locke held the visiting Williamsport Grays to a single hit as his Reading Indians won 7-1. And at Syracuse, the Chiefs pushed over the winning run on a ninth-inning error to whip the Schenectady Blue Jays 5-4.

SARNOFF TELLS OF HEAVY NBC LOSSES IN TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Sarnoff, replying to contentions of "profiteering" by television networks, said today NBC's TV network lost over four million dollars in its first eight years.

The president of National Broadcasting Co. was testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee which is considering proposals for federal regulation of radio-TV networks.

Sarnoff said that last year was the first that NBC's TV network made money—what he termed a "modest" cumulative net income of $2,315,000.

Wants Federal Control

"These facts show," Sarnoff said, "that any claim of exorbitant profits from this high risk business is not in accordance with the economic realities."

Sen. Bricker of Ohio, top Republican on the Commerce Committee, has contended that NBC and CBS are making fabulous profits and have established an "economic stranglehold" on the TV industry. Bricker suggested that TV networks be brought under federal regulation.

Sarnoff said regulation would only "upset the delicate balance of network advertising, affiliation relationships and service to the public."

"Not In Public Interest"

"Moreover," he said, "various types of regulation which have been proposed could not be effected without regulating advertisers.

"Such a step would raise the most serious problems, not only for television, but for the American enterprise system."

Sarnoff added:

"I am confident that when this committee has all the evidence it will conclude that a restriction of the network operation would not be in the public interest."

concerned, the group and especially the gifted student, according to the views presented by various educators.

Oppose Honor Society

Some educators oppose National Honor Society if it operates as a club of gifted students. Some approved the honor society if it was considered just an honor given to some students — like getting a letter in football.

Student club activities should never be based upon intellectual standing — but rather on interest, the group agreed.

The discussion also pointed up that "The Brain," who may be brilliant intellectually but deficient in social and athletic ability is generally ostracized by the other youngsters to the detriment of "The Brain" and society. But brilliant students who are also good athletes, or have good personalities have no such label put on them and are highly regarded by their fellow students. One educator said that athletics demand great intelligence and that a school has its best teams when the classes generally are of a higher intellectual level. A number of the teachers held that gifted students would help in teaching, with out suffering any ostracism from the other students. "Frequently the gifted children can communicate with the less gifted much better than an adult teacher. And education is simply a matter of communication," it was said.

Serve Self, Society

General agreement was reached that gifted children should be challenged to greater mental and leadership activity, that their abilities should be put more to use. Dr. Albert I. Oliver, associate professor of education, University of Pennsylvania, said, "appropriate guidance and instruction should be given so that the gifted child can, with his full powers, serve both himself and society." Segregating the gifted in special classes, the teachers were agreed, would prevent the full development of the gifted.

Argentina Revokes Martial Law State

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's provisional government appeared confident today it has the country well under control.

This was the conclusion drawn from the lifting of the martial law imposed during last weekend's revolt. But one Cabinet member said privately it is known that not all the active enemies of the government have been executed or arrested.

Firing squads carried out 27 death sentences under the state of martial law, and the revocation order said specifically there would be no more executions. The emergency decree was put in effect shortly after the revolt broke out Saturday.

STOCKS STEADY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market maintained a fairly steady position today in the early afternoon.

The market was narrowly mixed at the start, and prices later spread over a range of around 2 points higher to a point lower.

BANK TELLER FOILS HOLDUP

NEW YORK (AP)— A tiny, pretty woman bank teller, tipped off by a courageous porter's wink as she came to work this morning, thwarted a Queens bank holdup by two tough-talking, heavily armed bandits.

The teller, Rose Wing, 5-foot, 25-year-old Chinese, ran screaming from the bank.

The two robbers who had been holding porter Arthur Hampton at gun and knife point and threatening to kill head teller Peter Rufolo if he didn't give the bank vault combination raced from the bank.

Men Got Away

The bank, a branch of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank, is situated in a heavily congested district of Queens.

The holdup men got away.

They had appeared at the bank when the porter came to work at 7 a.m. They stuck a gun in his back and ordered: "Go ahead—don't stall. Don't do anything that isn't right or I'll plug you."

At 8:25 a.m., Rufolo came to work and, under orders of the robbers, Hampton let him in.

Just then the woman teller knocked on the door, and Hampton was directed to let her in.

But, he told police later, as he did so "I had a real sad look on my face like I wanted to cry. I winked at her, and when I winked she ran."

Redevelopment Plan For Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The City Planning Commission has announced a program of urban redevelopment for all of center city between the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers and covering 14 blocks north and south. The commission said the program would take 10 to 20 years for completion.

Albert M. Greenfield, chairman of the commission, said the project would be dependent largely upon private investment. Federal redevelopment money, federal mortgage insurance and state and city funds would make up a part of the financing, he said.

Greenfield said that about 25 per cent of the buildings in the area would have to be torn down. A number of others would be rebuilt, he said.

Meyner Signs Record Budget In New Jersey

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner today signed into law a record high 323 million dollar budget for New Jersey in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

The governor vetoed $129,500 in items the Republican-controlled Legislature had inserted into his budget requests.

The new budget represents a 26 million dollar increase over last year's. It appropriates $319,834,671 for spending beginning July 1. A companion budget bill appropriates $3,294,921 for expenses run up in the current fiscal year.

SAYS ALGERIAN REBELS WEAKER

ALGIERS (AP)—French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste asserted today that nationalist rebels no longer are capable of staging big operations against French forces in Algeria.

His statement coincided with reports of bombings, killings and burning of arms throughout the country yesterday. There also were several clashes between rebel bands and French units in which the French reported at least 68 insurgents killed.

"To be sure," Lacoste said in a newspaper interview, "it is far from my thoughts to tell you that confidence and order are reestablished."

DUTCH PAPERS DENY STORY ON FAITH HEALER

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Dutch newspapers today denied speculation, abroad that a faith healer's reported influence over Queen Juliana might force her abdication.

The local editors, who had held off several days on the story after it broke in a German news magazine, branded reports of the faith healer's sway over Juliana an invasion of the royal privacy.

They denied there was any constitutional conflict between the Queen and the government.

No Effect On Vote

The reports had no apparent effect on the Dutch parliamentary elections yesterday. The Communist newspaper De Waarheid printed the story here first in apparent hope of touching off a political bomb. But the Reds in the latest balloting lost 2 of the 6 seats they had held.

The story came out in the German weekly Der Spiegel at Frankfurt. It said Juliana fell under the influence of 61-year-old Miss Greet Hofmans after Prince Bernhard brought her to the palace eight years ago to treat their partially blind daughter Princess Maria Cristina, now 9.

The article alleged that Miss Hofmans later extended her influence to matters of state. It said a breach developed between the Queen and her husband after h barred the healer from the palace.

Most Dutch papers labeled the affair a private concern of the Queen and no one's business.

President Tells

action would soon be taken to liberate the 17 million Germans now in the Eastern zone of Germany."

That was the principal point Eisenhower brought up, Dulles reported.

Accompanied by Dulles, Adenauer arrived at the hospital at 9:45 a.m. and was taken directly to Eisenhower's third-floor suite. The two were greeted by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Walter Reed's commanding general, and James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary.

Dulles and Adenauer joined yesterday in a statement assailing the Soviet Union's "brutal" partition of Germany, and Eisenhower followed up today.

Today's first medical bulletin, out at 8:10 a.m., ahead of Adenauer's visit, said:

"The President had a very comfortable night. He had a good night's sleep.

"His temperature is 99, his pulse is 88, his blood pressure is 118 over 70, his respiration is 20—all of which indicate a normal reaction at this time."

Discussing the President's six hours of sleep, Hagerty said:

"Last night both the decompression tube and the intravenous tube were taken off and he was able to sleep without any tubes attached to his body at all."

As for the President's ability to digest the beef broth, Hagerty said Eisenhower had had no trouble that the doctors can detect.

The victory gave Allentown a game-and-a-half lead over the second-place Binghamton Triplets, who split a home twinbill with the Albany Senators, winning 14-4 then losing 10-4.

Bobby Locke held the visiting Williamsport Grays to a single hit as his Reading Indians won 7-1. And at Syracuse, the Chiefs pushed over the winning run on a ninth-inning error to whip the Schenectady Blue Jays 5-4.

Republican Women Started Organization In August 1955 With 168 Charter Members

Three distinctions have come to Adams County Council of Republican Women since their founding. The thirty-one women, who were present at the founding of the organization in August 24, 1955, quickly grew to 168, the figure for their charter membership. The organization meeting took place at the home of Mrs. John D. Teeter, Twin Lakes, Mrs. Forrest Craver is credited with having sparked the group from the first thought of its founding. Having secured all the necessary information at state headquarters in Harrisburg, Mrs. Craver became temporary chairman and Mrs. Richard Naugle, secretary.

Two months after a spectacular beginning with 168 charter members the group received an official letter of welcome from the state federation.

Officers were elected by the group headed by president Mrs. A. W. Butterfield. These officers, who will serve in the same posts for one year, are: president, Mrs. A. W. Butterfield; regional vice presidents, Mrs. Aleen Anderson, Mrs. Earl A. Deily, Mrs. Donald Garretson, Mrs. Blaine Hughes; recording secretary, Mrs. Richard Naugle; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Willis Conover; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Hartzell. Finance officers were added to the list in February 1956, Mrs. James Schwenk for the area of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Eugene Stetter for the remainder of the county.

State Federation Award

The second highlight of the club's existence was a letter received by the council in November 3, 1955, from the state federation naming the Adams County Council as the new council attaining the largest membership for 1955. An award was sent to Mrs. Butterfield as president of the council.

The third distinction of the club is a letter from Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffee, social secretary to the first lady of the land and a Gettysburg neighbor, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. It is kept in a place of distinction in the memoir book of the council. The letter, dated October 18, 1955, is a reply to the council "thanking the ladies of the council of Republican Women for your kind thought in naming her (Mrs. Eisenhower) one of your honorary members. Perhaps when she is once again a private citizen she will be able to participate more freely in the organizations which have extended such kind invitations to her."

A three-fold object unites the group among the members themselves and within the State Council: 1. To act as a clearing house for Republican Women's Activities and to provide a center for political education, legislative information and practical service, 2. To increase the number of women registered in the Republican Party and spur their efforts along party lines, 3. To secure equal representation for women on state and county committees within the party throughout the state.

Club Activities

Much of the activity of the club consists in contacting people who have not registered in the past two years. The council has also assisted in getting out voters for the general election and assisted in getting out petitions for the primary election, April 24. Educating members in political affairs and methods of the government is carried out at club meetings. Well-known men in various fields address the group at their regular monthly meetings.

All registered Republican women voters of the county are eligible to membership. Dues are one dollar per year.

The committee also voted unanimously to start contempt proceedings against Clark Foreman, New York, director of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, for failure to hand over his passport as directed by a subpoena served on him.

The committee voted to defer action on Otto Nathan, New York University professor and executor of the estate of Albert Einstein, for his failure to turn over his passport.

Under this act private interests construct buildings and lease them to the government which eventually takes them over. Lease payments apply toward the purchase price.

Truman Says Russ Bomb Claim Is "Lie"

PARIS (AP) — "Pure propaganda and just a lie out of the whole cloth in the usual Russian manner."

That was Harry Truman's reply today to Moscow radio's claim that Russia had tried to stop the United States from dropping the atomic bomb on Japan.

The Soviet radio, in a Japanese-language broadcast heard in Tokyo, charged that the United States went ahead with the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki "to bring fear of atomic weapons and use (that fear) as a political threat on peoples of various countries."

The former President, who made the final decision to drop the bombs, told newsmen in his hotel lobby here the Russians "knew nothing about the atomic bomb" in 1945.

began to refer to Pop contemptuously as 'the man with the one-way pockets' or 'the man who throws nickels around as though they were dollars.' The truth was that Pop just never left his money — or his fighter — where the fight mob could get their hands on it or him.

"Away back in 1936, Sportswriter Walter Stewart mused in the New York World-Telegram: 'The narrow-faced managers who line the curbs of 49th Street speak of Pop Foster in the most disrespectful terms. They will tell you he is a grasping old man with a crooked nose. . . . But you pause at the door and watch Pop as he stands there looking down at his Jimmy with something glorious brimming in his eye. Look at Jimmy as he smiles at you with the quick, light charm of the Irish. His ears are not bulbous and his teeth meet in even white lines. His nose comes down from unscarred brows in a clean line. Yet this man has been fighting for 13 years. He has made almost $500,000 and has fought men in five divisions. A lonely old man could not ask for a finer monument.'

"Last week in Los Angeles, a lonely old man died. And Pop Foster still had 'something glorious' brimming in his eye for the pink-cheeked bhoy-o, with the face of a cherub and the fists of a stevedore, he had picked up in a street fight in Vancouver 33 years before. Pop's will, probated after his death, left most of a $200,000 to 'his Jimmy' and Jimmy's family. (Pop had none of his own.)

"And Pop's monument, Jimmy McLarnin, his teeth still straight, his ears still not bulbous, took time off from a hunting trip to pay tribute to a man who was taking care of his fighter to the last. 'Pop,' said Jimmy, 'was a great man. Everyone is always talking about all time fighting greats. I'd like to see them talk for a moment about the all time manager. Pop would win hands down.'

"It was enough to make many another fighter, say Joe Louis, wish 'something glorious' might have brimmed in someone's eye for him."

Pennsylvania's population of registered passenger cars will increase by more than 685,000 and there will be a gain of 251,000 families in the state by 1965, according to a study by a large independent automobile finance company.

The company's analysis of the expected growth in the state's population and in family income —without considering other important economic trends at work—points convincingly to higher levels of prosperity in the future.

Passenger car registrations by 1965, the study showed, should total more than 3,676,000, a 23 per cent increase over the 2,991,000 now registered.

The company official also forecast a population gain of about 8 per cent, or more than 892,000 persons, by 1965. This would bring the state's population to more than 11,707,000. As for families, he foresaw a gain of 8 per cent, raising the total to more than 3,354,000 as compared with about 3,103,000 families now.

"Credit is a major force in maintaining local prosperity, particularly in view of the excellent payment record made by families in the state," he said. "Two out of every three automobiles are sold on credit. Its continued use in the sale of cars, goods will continue to make for higher living standards, more convenience and greater comfort for American families."

Other encouraging factors in the automobile outlook, he said, are the rapid growth in two-car families, accelerated by the trend to suburban living; the sound record for credit repayment established by families purchasing cars; continued high levels of employment, income and savings, and more aggressive selling by automobile manufacturers and dealers.

Oregon has almost 54,000 acres of state parks.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — A would-be robber may think twice before he picks once again on 75-year-old G. W. Bailey.

The husky young masked man pushed his way into Bailey's house and demanded money. Bailey grabbed him by the arm, tossed him out the door and into the front yard. The man fled.

Bob Rollins of Toledo and Vic Giromini of Syracuse both rolled 290 games during the ABC tournament at Rochester, N. Y. After first frame spares each had 11 straight strikes.

WATCHMAKERS—JEWELERS—IMPORTERS

21 DICKINSON AVE. CARLISLE, PA.

began to refer to Pop contemptuously as 'the man with the one-way pockets' or 'the man who throws nickels around as though they were dollars.' The truth was that Pop just never left his money — or his fighter — where the fight mob could get their hands on it or him.

"Away back in 1936, Sports-writer Walter Stewart mused in the New York World-Telegram: 'The narrow-faced managers who line the curbs of 49th Street speak of Pop Foster in the most disrespectful terms. They will tell you he is a grasping old man with a crooked nose. . . . But you pause at the door and watch Pop as he stands there looking down at his Jimmy with something glorious brimming in his eye. Look at Jimmy as he smiles at you with the quick, light charm of the Irish. His ears are not bulbous and his teeth meet in even white lines. His nose comes down from unscarred brows in a clean line. Yet this man has been fighting for 13 years. He has made almost $500,000 and has fought men in five divisions. A lonely old man could not ask for a finer monument.'

"Last week in Los Angeles, a lonely old man died. And Pop Foster still had 'something glorious' brimming in his eye for the pink-cheeked bhoy-o, with the face of a cherub and the fists of a stevedore, he had picked up in a street fight in Vancouver 33 years before. Pop's will, probated after his death, left most of a $200,000 to 'his Jimmy' and Jimmy's family. (Pop had none of his own.)

"And Pop's monument, Jimmy McLarnin, his teeth still straight, his ears still not bulbous, took time off from a hunting trip to pay tribute to a man who was taking care of his fighter to the last. 'Pop,' said Jimmy, 'was a great man. Everyone is always talking about all time fighting greats. I'd like to see them talk for a moment about the all time manager. Pop would win hands down.'

"It was enough to make many another fighter, say Joe Louis, wish 'something glorious' might have brimmed in someone's eye for him."

Pennsylvania's population of registered passenger cars will increase by more than 685,000 and there will be a gain of 251,000 families in the state by 1965, according to a study by a large independent automobile finance company.

The company's analysis of the expected growth in the state's population and in family income —without considering other important economic trends at work—points convincingly to higher levels of prosperity in the future.

Passenger car registrations by 1965, the study showed, should total more than 3,676,000, a 23 per cent increase over the 2,991,000 now registered.

The company official also forecast a population gain of about 8 per cent, or more than 892,000 persons, by 1965. This would bring the state's population to more than 11,707,000. As for families, he foresaw a gain of 8 per cent, raising the total to more than 3,354,000 as compared with about 3,103,000 families now.

"Credit is a major force in maintaining local prosperity, particularly in view of the excellent payment record made by families in the state," he said. "Two out of every three automobiles are sold on credit. Its continued use in the sale of cars, goods will continue to make for higher living standards, more convenience and greater comfort for American families."

Other encouraging factors in the automobile outlook, he said, are the rapid growth in two-car families, accelerated by the trend to suburban living; the sound record for credit repayment established by families purchasing cars; continued high levels of employment, income and savings, and more aggressive selling by automobile manufacturers and dealers.

Oregon has almost 54,000 acres of state parks.

TAKE THAT! AND THAT!

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — A would-be robber may think twice before he picks once again on 75-year-old G. W. Bailey.

The husky young masked man pushed his way into Bailey's house and demanded money. Bailey grabbed him by the arm, tossed him out the door and into the front yard. The man fled.

Bob Rollins of Toledo and Vic Gironimi of Syracuse both rolled 290 games during the ABC tournament at Rochester, N. Y. After first frame spares each had 11 straight strikes.

Nets 20 Million For Construction

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority has 20 million dollars in funds from a bond sale negotiated to finance a series of borrow-to-build construction projects.

The authority Tuesday sold the bonds to Halsey, Stuart and Co., Inc., New York, at a net interest cost to the state of 2.66 per cent.

The bonded indebtedness of the agency now stands at 255 million dollars.

Biglerville Legion Auxiliary Was Founded In 1938 To Aid In Club And Charity Work

A good many Biglerville residents have undoubtedly been approached more than once by women selling the traditional "Buddy Poppies" for Memorial Day. Until recently, only men dressed in the uniform of the American Legion were familiar sidewalk figures hawking poppies to memorialize our nation's military dead. In late years the women have arisen as a dominant figure in many organizations, as an auxiliary group assisting the men in their club and charity work.

The Auxiliary to the Ira E. Lady Post 262 in Biglerville was founded in 1938. The first indication of a desire to form such a group was recorded in the first minute book as having taken place in 1938, when "the preliminary organization meeting of the Auxiliary to the Ira E. Lady Post 262 was held on Friday night, April 1, 1938. Mrs. Lewis Conrad of Hanover, The Department Americanism chairman, explained the meaning of the Legion Auxiliary." Since only seven ladies were present, no complete organization could be made. However, applications for membership were distributed to the ladies present.

Sixteen ladies attended the second meeting when temporary officers were elected to serve until June 1, 1938: president, Mrs. William B. Wilson; vice president, Mrs. Luther Lawver; secretary, Mrs. Stanton D. House; treasurer, Mrs. Robert E. Eicholtz; unit chaplain, Mrs. Wesley Hummer; unit historian, Mrs. W. A. Raffensperger; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. George Kane.

Charter Completed

Application for Unit Charter of the American Legion Auxiliary was completed June 27, 1938. According to the constitution "Membership is limited to the mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters of members of the American Legion, and to the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of all men and women who were in the military or naval service of the U. S. between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and died in the line of duty or after honorable discharge and to those women who of their own right are eligible to membership in the American Legion." Two memberships are offered — for those persons exceeding the age of 18 — and a Junior Membership under the age of eighteen. Junior members are automatically admitted as a Senior member at the turn of eighteen.

Charter members were: Mrs. William B. Wilson, Mrs. Stanton D. House, Mrs. Robert E. Eicholtz, Mrs. Wesley V. Hummer, Mrs Jacob C. Lawver, Miss Elizabeth L. Eicholtz, Mrs. Roy S. Peters, Mrs. Chester Baugher, Mrs. Lawrence Rice, Mrs. George E. Kane, Mrs. Cornelius H. Nitchman, Mrs. John G. Wilson, Mrs. H. C. Lady, Mrs. S. G. Fidler, Mrs. Eva B. Ripley, Mrs. Maude Routsong, Miss Edna E. Lawver, Mrs. Merle Culp, Mrs. Alvey G. Gantz, Miss Violet G. Gantz, all of Biglerville; Mrs. Simon L. Orner, Mrs. Ruth Stock, Mrs. Ruby Fidler, Mrs. Luther M. Lady, Mrs. L. W. Lawver, Miss Carrie M. Lady, Mrs. J. Ralph Stoner, all of Biglerville; Mrs. Lloyd E. Garretson, Mrs. William A. Raffensperger, Mrs. Grace K. Bushman, all of Arendtsville; Mrs. Sue M. Naylor, Aspers, and Mrs. Clarence D. Deardorff, McKnightstown.

The club boasts two gold star mothers, Mrs. Hiram Lady, who owns a gold star from World War I, and Mrs. Harold Taylor, who owns a gold star from World War II.

Poppy Sales Undertaken

Poppies were taken under the wing of the Auxiliary for the first time May, 1938, and distributed in the respective communities.

For greater efficiency these other committees were appointed: publicity, under Mrs. William A. Raffensperger; rehabilitation, Mrs. Lloyd Garretson; Americanism, Mrs. Alvey Gantz; membership, Mrs. John Wilson; social, Mrs. Chester Baugher.

A food sale in November 1938 was the first major project designated by the club. At the November meeting it was also decided to sign and frame the charter for hanging. Mrs. S. D. House was appointed to handle the job. Proceeds of $30.60 were collected for the food sale.

Again in March 1939 the organization made money on a rummage sale sponsored by the Child Welfare Committee.

Membership Rises

Although the group had a slow beginning membership was on the rise and by June 1938 the club boasted of about 32 members.

Annual activities for the club were marked by the sponsorship of a boy at the Keystone Boys' Camp. It was unanimously voted upon by members of the auxiliary post, June 16, 1939. The selection was made by members of the post.

In 1940 it was decided to send a girl to the Keystone Girls' Camp. These two efforts of the group have been carried on since that time.

In January 15, 1942, the rehabilitation chairman reported the purchase and installation of a pair of bowling alleys for the Coatesville Hospital. An annual Legion festival received the support of the Auxiliary.

Government And History

Education on government and American history has been stressed at meetings. Laws, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, citizenship, duties of government officers have been studied by the group.

"April 2, 1951 Mrs. Guise reported that she had been sent the name of Lester Mooney from the Scotland Orphanage. It was decided to adopt this child, born April 10, 1944. The adoption rules were later explained." This passage taken from the Minute Book indicates again the stress which the club laid upon child welfare.

The need for continual child welfare and rehabilitation has been stressed at meetings. Easter and Christmas baskets are distributed to patients at Coatesville, Perry Point and South Mountain Hospitals. Another important service of the group, which also raised money for them, is to serve sandwiches at the regular meeting of the post. Easter Egg hunts for children under the age of six years were initiated April 10.

The special state project for 1955 and 1956 is a greenhouse at the Leech Farm Road Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Recently elected officers, who will be installed next October, are: President, Mrs. Elmer Fissel; vice president, Mrs. Edgar Woodward; secretary, Mrs. Howard Guise; treasurer, Mrs. John Wilson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Clyde Heller; chaplain, Mrs. Chester Lauver; historian, Mrs. Merrit Rouzer; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Tillie Shanks.

Ira Ellsworth Lady, for whom the Biglerville American Legion Post was named, was born April 15, 1891, at Arendtsville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Lady. He was graduated from West Chester Normal School in 1913 and later served as an instructor at that institution.

November 6, 1917, he entered the service of the United States Army at Camp Meade, Md., serving with Company A, 316 Reg., 79th Division of the Infantry, until volunteering for immediate service in France. In January he was transferred to Camp Stuart, Va., and assigned to a machine gun company of the Fourth U. S. Infantry, Third Division. He was appointed a sergeant February 1, 1918, and on April 6 he sailed from Newport News, Va. on board the "Great Northern." He landed at Brest, France, and after a few weeks training, he entered the front lines with his company against the German offensive between Reims and Soissons serving in the Aisne defense from June 1-5; Chateau-Thierry June 6 to July 14, and the Champagne Marne defense July 15-18. On August 1 he was appointed to attend army candidate school at Langres, France. Having completed this course in less than the required time, he was commissioned a second lieutenant September 25, 1918, and assigned to his old division, the 79th. On October 31 he was commissioned a first lieutenant of the infantry. Early in November while leading his company during the Argonne Drive he received a severe wound which resulted in his death November 22, 1918, at the age of 26 years.

GETS RECIPE FROM CUPBOARD

"In Gettysburg, they haven't started counting calories yet," says Dorothy Crandall, food columnist of the Boston Daily Globe, in one of her recent articles following a visit to the Dutch Cupboard on Baltimore St.

Mrs. Crandall came to Gettysburg for Mrs. S. Lester Scott's pancake recipe discovered not long ago by a young couple who were honeymooning here.

In her article she writes that "a Pennsylvania Dutchman thinks of a salad as a 'side dish,' never as a main course. The favorite is a hot bacon dressing poured over dandelion greens, leaf lettuce, cabbage or endive.

"A wonderful place to answer a lusty 'koom essa,' the call to a Pennsylvania Dutch meal," she writes, "is the Dutch Cupboard in Gettysburg (owned by Mrs. Scott). In the town long famous as the home of the Civil War battlefield and now noted as the site of President Eisenhower's farm, visitors relish the hearty food. Recipes used are from a thick, worn old cookbook brought from Germany by the great-grandmother of Mrs. Scott."

Recipes listed in the article are Dutch pancakes, Dutch rice pudding and hot bacon dressing. At the head of the page are the words, "Them That Work Hard, Eat Hearty." Heading the article is a picture of Mrs. Scott's rice pudding.

Mrs. Crandall sent Mrs. Scott two cookbooks of recipes of Globe readers.

Pennsy's New "Tube" Train On First Run

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has a brand new lightweight train on the rails today and President James M. Symes seems proud of it.

"Personally, I think it is a good train," said Symes, "but I am not saying it is the ultimate answer to the passenger problem confronting the American railroads."

The "Tubular Train" is what it was called during the development period because of its unique design as a steel tube. It requires no heavy steel underframe because of the tube's great strength.

Dubbed "The Keystone," it made its first public run between Philadelphia and Newark, N.J., yesterday. It enters regular New York-to-Washington, D.C., service June 24.

Two Inducted Into Littlestown VFW

Charles C. Groft and Robert L. Arter were enrolled in the Mason and Dixon VFW Post at a meeting Tuesday night.

Commander Robert L. Snyder presided, and announced that the annual Scotland School picnic will be held Saturday, August 7. Members of the post and their families are invited to attend and take a basket luncheon. Earl J. Weaver reported on district meeting Sunday in Delta.

A film "Magic Vond," showing the activities of VFW, was shown.

SLEEPY TIME

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Bob Chang, a special Chinese representative for an airline, ran into a new problem in trying to put Orient-bound passengers at ease.

Chang produced drowsiness-inducing tablets for some of them who were worried about a rough flight. But they were skeptical and wouldn't take them until Chang took one first. He did. They did. The tablet was too effective for Chang. He had a tough time fighting off his drowsiness on his long frive home from the airport.

Biglerville Legion Auxiliary Was Founded In 1938 To Aid In Club And Charity Work

A good many Biglerville residents have undoubtedly been approached more than once by women selling the traditional "Buddy Poppies" for Memorial Day. Until recently, only men dressed in the uniform of the American Legion were familiar sidewalk figures hawking poppies to memorialize our nation's military dead. In late years the women have arisen as a dominant figure in many organizations, as an auxiliary group assisting the men in their club and charity work.

The Auxiliary to the Ira E. Lady Post 262 in Biglerville was founded in 1938. The first indication of a desire to form such a group was recorded in the first minute book as having taken place in 1938, when "the preliminary organization meeting of the Auxiliary to the Ira E. Lady Post 262 was held on Friday night, April 1, 1938. Mrs. Lewis Conrad of Hanover, The Department Americanism chairman, explained the meaning of the Legion Auxiliary." Since only seven ladies were present, no complete organization could be made. However, applications for membership were distributed to the ladies present.

Sixteen ladies attended the second meeting when temporary officers were elected to serve until June 1, 1938: president, Mrs. William B. Wilson; vice president, Mrs. Luther Lawver; secretary, Mrs. Stanton D. House; treasurer, Mrs. Robert E. Eicholtz; unit chaplain, Mrs. Wesley Hummer; unit historian, Mrs W. A. Raffensperger; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. George Kane.

Charter Completed

Application for Unit Charter of the American Legion Auxiliary was completed June 27, 1938. According to the constitution "Membership is limited to the mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters of members of the American Legion, and to the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of all men and women who were in the military or naval service of the U. S. between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and died in the line of duty or after honorable discharge and to those women who of their own right are eligible to membership in the American Legion." Two memberships are offered — for those persons exceeding the age of 18 — and a Junior Membership under the age of eighteen. Junior members are automatically admitted as a Senior member at the turn of eighteen.

Charter members were: Mrs. William B. Wilson, Mrs. Stanton D. House, Mrs. Robert E. Eicholtz, Mrs. Wesley V. Hummer, Mrs Jacob C. Lawver, Miss Elizabeth L. Eicholtz, Mrs. Roy S. Peters, Mrs. Chester Baugher, Mrs. Lawrence Rice, Mrs. George E. Kane, Mrs. Cornelius H. Nitchman, Mrs John G. Wilson, Mrs H. C. Lady, Mrs. S. G. Fidler, Mrs Eva B. Ripley, Mrs Maude Routsong, Miss Edna E. Lawver, Mrs. Merle Culp, Mrs. Alvey G. Gantz, Miss Violet G. Gantz, all of Biglerville; Mrs. Simon L. Orner, Mrs. Ruth Stock Mrs. Ruoy Fidler, Mrs. Luther M. Lady, Mrs. L. W. Lawver, Miss Carrie M. Lady, Mrs. J. Ralph Stoner, all of Biglerville; Mrs. Lloyd E. Garretson, Mrs. William A. Raffensperger, Mrs. Grace K. Bushman, all of Arendtsville; Mrs. Sue M. Naylor, Aspers, and Mrs. Clarence D. Deardorff, McKnightstown.

The club boasts two gold star mothers, Mrs. Hiram Lady, who owns a gold star from World War I. and Mrs. Harold Taylor, who owns a gold star from World War II.

Poppy Sales Undertaken

Poppies were taken under the wing of the Auxiliary for the first time May, 1938, and distributed in the respective communities.

For greater efficiency these other committees were appointed: publicity, under Mrs. William A. Raffensperger; rehabilitation, Mrs. Lloyd Garretson, Americanism, Mrs. Alver Gantz, membership Mrs. John Wilson; social, Mrs. Chester Baugher.

A food sale in November 1938 was the first major project designated by the club. At the November meeting it was also decided to sign and frame the charter for hanging. Mrs. S. D. House was appointed to handle the job. Proceeds of $30 60 were collected for the food sale.

Again in March 1939 the organization made money on a rummage sale sponsored by the Child Welfare Committee

Membership Rises

Although the group had a slow beginning membership was on the rise and by June 1938 the club boasted of about 32 members

Annual activities for the club were marked by the sponsorship of a boy at the Keystone Boys' Camp It was unanimously voted upon by members of the auxiliary post, June 16, 1939 The selection was made by members of the post

In 1940 it was decided to send a girl to the Keystone Girls' Camp These two efforts of the group have been carried on since that time

In January 15, 1942 the rehabilitation chairman reported the purchase and installation of a pair of bowling alleys for the Coatesville Hospital. An annual Legion festival received the support of the Auxiliary

Government And History

Education on government and American history has been stressed at meetings. Laws, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, citizenship, duties of government officers have been studied by the group.

"April 2, 1951 Mrs. Guise reported that she had been sent the name of Lester Mooney from the Scotland Orphanage. It was decided to adopt this child, born April 10, 1944. The adoption rules were later explained." This passage taken from the Minute Book indicates again the stress which the club laid upon child welfare.

The need for continual child welfare and rehabilitation has been stressed at meetings. Easter and Christmas baskets are distributed to patients at Coatesville, Perry Point and South Mountain Hospitals. Another important service of the group, which also raised money for them, is to serve sandwiches at the regular meeting of the post. Easter Egg hunts for children under the age of six years were initiated April 10.

The special state project for 1955 and 1956 is a greenhouse at the Leech Farm Road Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Recently elected officers, who will be installed next October, are: President, Mrs. Elmer Fissel; vice president, Mrs. Edgar Woodward; secretary, Mrs. Howard Guise; treasurer, Mrs. John Wilson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Clyde Heller; chaplain, Mrs. Chester Lauver; historian, Mrs. Merrit Rouzer; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Tillie Shanks.

Ira Ellsworth Lady, for whom the Biglerville American Legion Post was named, was born April 15, 1891, at Arendtsville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Lady. He was graduated from West Chester Normal School in 1913 and later served as an instructor at that institution.

November 6, 1917, he entered the service of the United States Army at Camp Meade, Md., serving with Company A, 316 Reg, 79th Division of the Infantry, until volunteering for immediate service in France. In January he was transferred to Camp Stuart, Va., and assigned to a machine gun company of the Fourth U. S. Infantry, Third Division. He was appointed a sergeant February 1, 1918, and on April 6 he sailed from Newport News, Va. on board the "Great Northern" He landed at Brest, France, and after a few weeks training, he entered the front lines with his company against the German offensive between Reims and Soissons serving in the Aisne defense from June 1-5; Chateau-Thierry June 6 to July 14, and the Champagne Marne defense July 15-18. On August 1 he was appointed to attend army candidate school at Langres, France. Having completed this course in less than the required time, he was commissioned a second lieutenant September 25, 1918, and assigned to his old division, the 79th. On October 31 he was commissioned a first lieutenant of the infantry. Early in November while leading his company during the Argonne Drive he received a severe wound which resulted in his death November 22, 1918, at the age of 26 years.

GETS RECIPE FROM CUPBOARD

"In Gettysburg, they haven't started counting calories yet," says Dorothy Crandall, food columnist of the Boston Daily Globe, in one of her recent articles following a visit to the Dutch Cupboard on Baltimore St.

Mrs. Crandall came to Gettysburg for Mrs. S. Lester Scott's pancake recipe discovered not long ago by a young couple who were honeymooning here

In her article she writes that "a Pennsylvania Dutchman thinks of a salad as a 'side dish,' never as a main course. The favorite is a hot bacon dressing poured over dandelion greens, leaf lettuce, cabbage or endive

"A wonderful place to answer a lusty 'koom essa,' the call to a Pennsylvania Dutch meal," she writes, "is the Dutch Cupboard in Gettysburg (owned by Mrs Scott) In the town long famous as the home of the Civil War battlefield and now noted as the site of President Eisenhower's farm, visitors relish the hearty food. Recipes used are from a thick, worn old cookbook brought from Germany by the great-grandmother of Mrs. Scott."

Recipes listed in the article are Dutch pancakes, Dutch rice pudding and hot bacon dressing At the head of the page are the words "Them That Work Hard Eat Hearty." Heading the article is a picture of Mrs. Scott's rice pudding

Mrs Crandall sent Mrs Scott two cookbooks of recipes of Globe readers.

MANY SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO RAISE TAXES

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (AP) — How to finance locally the new $200 a year teacher salary increase authorized by the Legislature is a major problem facing Pennsylvania's 2,500 school districts.

Gov. Leader approved the salary increase for some 60,000 school teachers in the state but vetoed at the same time another bill providing increased state subsidies to local districts to finance the boost. He said he would recommend that the 1957 Legislature, meeting next January, increase state subsidies to help local districts finance the salary boost.

What They're Doing

Here is a summary of the action some districts have under consideration:

Williamsport — The school board has suggested a new $5 per capita levy on some 21,000 residents to raise $105,000. It already has a ⅞ of 1 per cent wage tax and a 22½ mill real estate levy.

Pottstown—An increase of $600 for teachers with more than four years experience and $400 for others (both including the automatic $200 yearly raise) may be cut to $500 and $300. Or Supt. Harvard E. Fosnocht suggests that all teachers now at the state aided maximum be given $200 and the others $400.

Somerset—The joint school district directors decided to apy not only the additional $200 ordered by the new law but an extra $100 "bonus" which would not be subsidized by the state.

Luzerne County—Supt. E. S. Teter estimates that preliminary findings indicate districts will have to increase property millage 2 to 5 mills or per capita taxes $1.50 to $3.50.

Portage—Teachers of the joint school district have been recently granted a $100 bonus.

Towanda — The elementary school board has halted action on a $150 pay bonus proposed for the 1956-57 year pending a ruling on whether it would be unconstitutional.

Snyder County—Supt. Arthur M. Felker estimates districts will be compelled to increase millage by four to five mills to raise a total $38,000.

Other Results

Jeannette—Property taxes may be raised from 23 to 30 mills; the per capita tax of $5 tripled to $15; and a new one per cent real estate transfer tax be imposed. With this additional revenue teachers will be given a total raise of $500, $100 above that required by law.

Northumberland County — Districts will have to raise millage between 2 and 7.1 mills.

Lycoming County—Districts will have to raise rates between 1.25 and 14.3 mills.

Susquehanna County — Districts will have to raise rates between .9 and 4.2 mills.

Springfield Twp., Deleware County—Another mill may be added to the rate which was tentatively raised from 37 to 39 previously.

Seventy-three per cent of the United States has been mapped by the Geological Survey.

SAYS PROPOSED TOLL REVISION TO BE COSTLY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Trucking interests told a Senate investigating committee Wednesday that proposed toll revisions on the Pennsylvania Turnpike would cause further losses in revenue rather than increasing it.

Edward Gogolin, general manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn., said that a "real" rate decrease for truckers is necessary to increase truck traffic on the superhighway.

Gogolin appeared at a hearing in the committee's investigation of a proposed 41 per cent increase in automobile tolls and a 20 per cent decrease in truck tolls for trips across the state. The proposed rates have been postponed indefinitely.

Threaten Special Session

As the hearings resumed, Senate Democratic Leader Dent said that unless the turnpike bondholders agree to measures to avert the proposed increase, he would ask Gov. Leader to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the situation.

Dent said he would seek such a special session to enact legislation for the state to take over operating control of the turnpike network along with its financial obligations.

Despite truck rate increases in recent years and attractive competitive roads, Gogolin said "more trucks are using the turnpike today than ever before and are paying more dollars into turnpike coffers than ever before."

Want Pike To Prosper

Gogolin called for a return of the toll structure to its June, 1955, level and said such action would mean increased revenue of $300,000 a month from truck traffic.

"In short, with a rate revision which would bring us back to tolls of last June thousands more trucks per week would use the turnpike with a consequent stepup in receipts which should go far toward easing the system's financial burdens," he said.

"We want the turnpike to prosper, we want our trucks to use it."

The loss of truck traffic over the eastern half of the 408-mile system has been cited as the crux of the decreasing revenue problem.

Called "Unrelated"

The committee renewed its investigation after the commission decided Tuesday to use uncommitted construction funds to pay certain bond interest due on Dec. 1. However, bankers maintained the move would have no effect on possible increase in tolls.

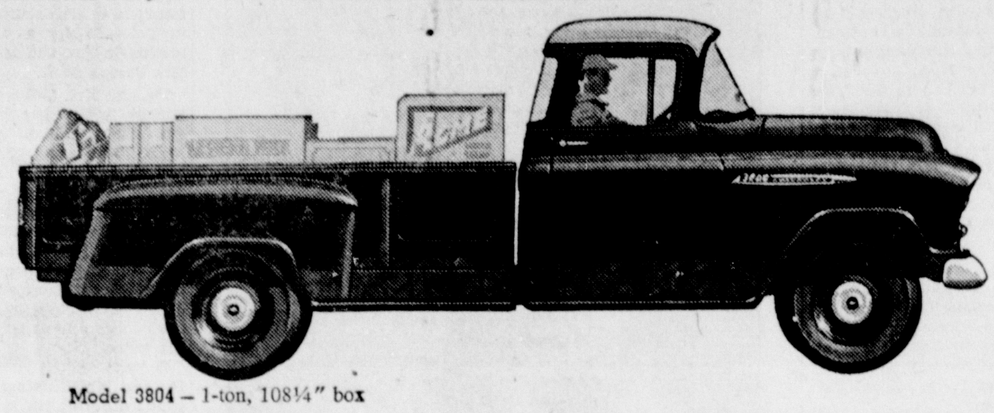

Representatives of the turnpike bondholders insisted at the conference that interest payments and rate revisions are unrelated matters.

Chairman G. Franklin McSorley said if the commission can use uncommitted funds to pay intrest charges "we will try to postpone any rate increase until a later date."

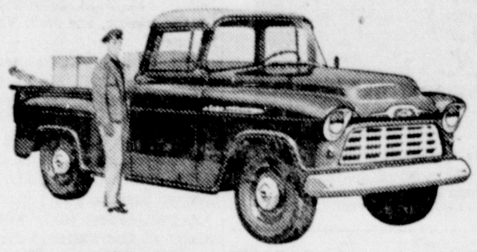

If a growing child ate as much according to his weight as a growing bird he would consume three lambs and a calf in a day.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — He won five cents on principle but it still cost Robert Betcher $13.85 on an overtime parking ticket.

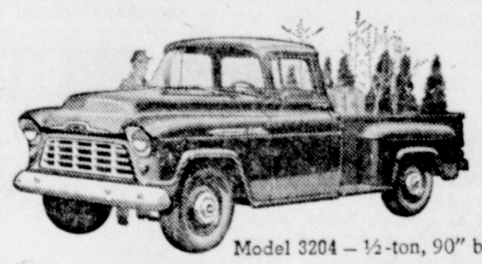

He took the case to court to argue that he put two nickels in the nickel-an-hour meter and was entitled to a little overtime.

SAYS PROPOSED TOLL REVISION TO BE COSTLY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Trucking interests told a Senate investigating committee Wednesday that proposed toll revisions on the Pennsylvania Turnpike would cause further losses in revenue rather than increasing it

Edward Gogolin, general manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn., said that a "real" rate decrease for truckers is necessary to increase truck traffic on the superhighway.

Gogolin appeared at a hearing in the committee's investigation of a proposed 41 per cent increase in automobile tolls and a 20 per cent decrease in truck tolls for trips across the state The proposed rates have been postponed indefinitely

Threaten Special Session

As the hearings resumed, Senate Democratic Leader Dent said that unless the turnpike bondholders agree to measures to avert the proposed increase, he would ask Gov Leader to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with the situation

Dent said he would seek such a special session to enact legislation for the state to take over operating control of the turnpike network along with its financial obligations

Despite truck rate increases in recent years and attractive competitive roads, Gogolin said "more trucks are using the turnpike today than ever before and are paying more dollars into turnpike coffers than ever before"

Want Pike To Prosper

Gogolin called for a return of the toll structure to its June, 1955, level and said such action would mean increased revenue of $300,000 a month from truck traffic

"In short, with a rate revision which would bring us back to tolls of last June thousands more trucks per week would use the turnpike with a consequent stepup in receipts which should go far toward easing the system's financial burdens," he said.

"We want the turnpike to prosper, we want our trucks to use it"

The loss of truck traffic over the eastern half of the 408-mile system has been cited as the crux of the decreasing revenue problem.

Called "Unrelated"

The committee renewed its investigation after the commission decided Tuesday to use uncommitted construction funds to pay certain bond interest due on Dec. 1. However, bankers maintained the move would have no effect on possible increase in tolls.

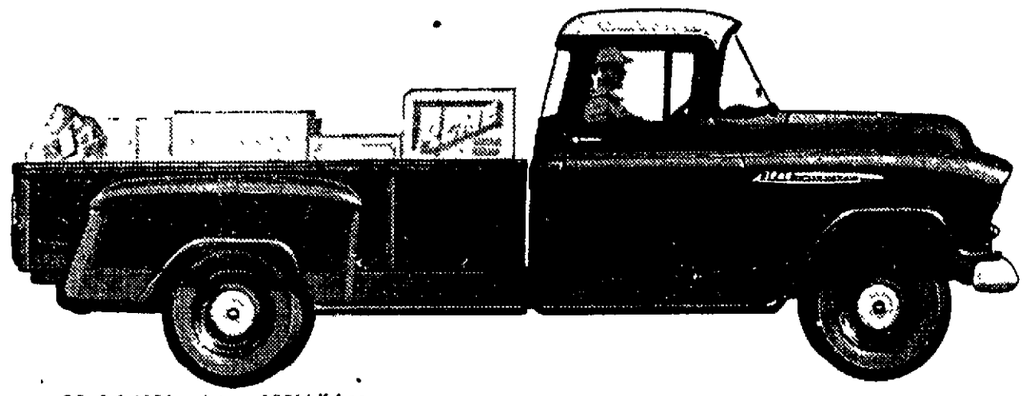

Representatives of the turnpike bondholders insisted at the conference that interest payments and rate revisions are unrelated matters.

Chairman G. Franklin McSorley said if the commission can use uncommitted funds to pay intrest charges "we will try to postpone any rate increase until a later date."

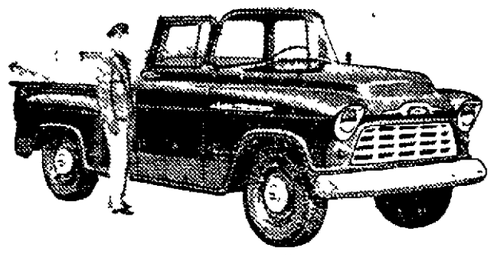

If a growing child ate as much according to his weight as a growing bird he would consume three lambs and a calf in a day.

BRITONS QUIT SUEZ AFTER 75 YEARS IN EGYPT

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—The last British soldier quit the Suez Canal zone today, ending 74 years of British military occupation in Egypt. The last to leave was Brig. J. H. S. Lacey, who quietly handed over the Port Said harbor navy house to the Egyptians at 6:25 a.m.

Lacey boarded the British LST Evan Gibb and with 10 officers and 80 enlisted men sailed for the last of the British garrison, which two years ago numbered 85,000 men.

The Union Jack was lowered for the last time in the zone at 6 a.m. yesterday. Egypt has taken over operation of the huge bases the British built in the area. Britain retains the right to return to them at any time in the next five years if an outside power attacks Turkey or any Arab state.

Before Deadline

The British pulled out six days before the deadline set in the 1954 British-Egyptian treaty. The Egyptians are planning a major celebration for the deadline date, June 18.

The weekly newspaper Akher Saa reported that the celebrations in Cairo and Alexandria would be climaxed by displays of arms Egypt has purchased from the Communist bloc.

In Cairo, the paper said, "As Stalin tanks rumble on to the square, MIG jets and Ilyushin aircraft will streak across the skies and parachutists will be dropped over Alexandria and "newly purchased naval units"—reportedly destroyers from Poland and possibly minesweepers, torpedo boats and small submarines—will be on display in the harbor.

Company Controlled

The 104-mile Suez Canal, vital water link between Europe and the Far East, remains under the operation of the Compagnie Universelle du Canal Maritime de Suez. The British government holds almost half the shares in the company, which has a concession to operate the canal until 1968.

If other arrangements are not made by then, the canal passes to the Egyptian government. British Minister of State Anthony Nutting said in London a month ago that Britain is getting ready for international talks on the future of the canal.

There was no fanfare and little ceremony to mark the British departure.

RANCH STYLE—Actor Dean Martin and wife eat fried chicken at "Boomtown" Hollywood party for Share, Inc., which aids mentally retarded children. She is vice president.

Pretty garnish for individual servings of fish fillets: criss-cross strips of pimiento and place capers between the strips.

Making lemon pie? Cool your filling before you pour it into your crust. See that the crust is cool, too. These precautions help to prevent pastry from becoming soggy.

Add diced leftover cooked pork to a Waldorf salad: celery, apple and mayonnaise.

Latin American Cities Are Introduced To Concert Music

By STANLEY MEISLER

NEW ORLEANS, (AP) — "Oh I am so ashamed of my people" moaned a native of Guayaquil, Ecuador, after his city heard a symphony orchestra for the first time.

But why, wondered the conductor, Alexander Hilsberg. Loud hand-clapping followed the finale. The Ecuadorians shouted for encore after encore. Surely the concert was a success.

"Oh I am so ashamed of my people" repeated the native. "For two hours you work and make music for them and they are so impolite as to shout for more. It is truly shameful."

Hilsberg, conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony, likes this story. Out it comes whenever someone asks how his orchestra fared with audiences that never heard a concert before.

The orchestra recently flew over 10,000 miles of Latin American territory, stopping 26 times for a concert. Sponsored by the State Department, the tour was the first there by a professional United States orchestra.

Go To Port-au-Prince

One spot that took in an orchestra for the first time was Port-au-Prince, Haiti. The 1500 natives in the hall quickly absorbed the intricacies of classical music but they just couldn't catch on to the applause technique.

In the middle of one symphony, they suddenly burst into applause. Hilsberg scowled. The musicians were obviously annoyed. So the applause stopped. The the orchestra stormed through the final notes. There was silence.

"They just sat there," says Hilsberg in his thick Polish-Russian accent, "So I made a gesture that it was over. Then they applauded, Very loud."

In Managua, another city facing an orchestra for the first time, Nicragua's president, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, told Hilsberg:

"I would rather have an orchestra like yours than an army."

Did he mean it? "Who knows," shrugs Hilsberg. "That's what he said."

"It's Pandemonium"

Hilsberg has been asked how Latin American audiences that are familiar with concerts differ from those in the United States.

"Oh they shout, they stamp, they beat, it's pandemonium," says Hilsberg. "After the concert in Caracas, Venezuela, I thought the balcony would fall. Truly it was terrifying. And then one man, like a maniac, came rushing to the stage. He was shouting and crying. He screamed the concert was so wonderful it was worth seven years starvation."

Hilsberg says the Latin American concert halls compare favorably with those in the United States. "I would not say they are better than what we have," he explains. "After all, I have played in New York's Carnegie Hall and Philadelphia's Academy of Music. But their halls are just as good."

Good Concert Halls

He described as unusually good the concert halls of Lima, Peru; Bogota, Colombia; Havana, Cuba; Willemstaad, Curacao, and Mexico City. And in the agricultural center of Cali, Colombia, says Hilsberg, theaters you ever saw, with immense beauty and wonderful sound."

Hilsberg is confident there are more Latin American places where he can show off his music. "Quito, Ecuador, was terribly hurt that we did not stop there," he says. "Oh, I have received so many letters, telegrams from there. We will make another tour. The same places and new places. But of course, we have not planned that yet."

MAN IN OFFICE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John M. Schissler of suburban Shaler Township is a triple threat man. He's been appointed a deputy constable. He already was a deputy sheriff and township commissioner. Not long ago he held the police chief's job in the township.

CALL AN EXPERT

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — John Dyer Wilbur, Albuquerque, asked U.S. District Court to declare him bankrupt. He listed debts of $5,725 and assets of $1,550. He said he was employed as a financial consultant.

Productive Cow Bears Only Bulls

SHELBY, N. C. (AP) — If you know how to get a cow to have a heifer calf, farmer Charles Peeler wishes you'd pass along your secret.

Back in 1946, as part of his 4-H club project, Peeler received a registered Jersey heifer who turned out to be an exceptional milk giver. She also produced a calf the year after Peeler got her. It was a bull.

Nine years have passed, and each year she has had a calf — always a bull.

MEXICAN MOVIES HAVE BIG BOOM

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, the world's leading producer of Spanish-language moving pictures, expects 1956 to be super, stupendous, colossal, and — well, anyway, better than last year.

The industry hopes to make over 100 feature length films, about 200 shorts, and lots of newsreels.

But the big step is the shift to comparatively costly films, maybe widescreen and in color.

The improved outlook for 1956 after two or three sluggish years is based largely on an improving foreign market, prosperity which is helping fill Mexico's 2,000 movie theaters and foreign film companies making pictures here.

Expect More

North American companies made between 18 and 20 films in Mexico during 1955, expect to make more in 1956. This gives work to hundreds of Mexican actors and technicians, and gives Mexican producers, who work with foreign companies, new know-how into latest production methods and equipment.

Mexico's leap to world leadership in Spanish-language films was recent and rapid. Back in 1941 Argentina was tops. But during the war years Mexico, with United States help, forged ahead.

The industry reached its peak in 1950 with 125 feature films. Most of the films, by Hollywood standards, were quickie movies made in three or four weeks at a cost of around $40,000 and $50,000. But they were in Spanish, they had plots Latins like, and the backgrounds were authentic! They clicked.

But in 1952 the industry slumped to 109 films, and even all these were not put on the market glutted by still-popular older films.

Comes To Life

Now the industry is coming back to life. That means movies costing $80,000 to $160,000 and up.

Production costs are much lower in Mexico than in the United States but Hollywood's interest in Mexico, producers say, is not solely the lower costs. Pictures with Mexican backgrounds sell well abroad, and the authentic backgrounds are badly needed to make the new widescreen and color pictures look realistic. Backgrounds dubbed in don't look right.

The Mexican star system is much as it is in the United States. The stars, however, rate differently at home and abroad.

Cantinflas, for example, is by far the most popular actor in Mexico, but the comedian has failed to click in South America. Tin Tan, another comic, is far more popular in South America. Among the women stars, Maria Felix is tops, with Dolores Del Rio next, although Dolores hasn't been active recently. Silvia Pinal is another top star.

Cream a quarter cup of butter or margarine with an equal amount of strained honey and use a spread for toast.

THE QUEEN GETS AROUND— Greece's Queen Frederika rides a mule in the... Lainous Trichonia during a two-day tour of western Greece with daughter, Princess Sophia.

FISH DO SMELL

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Experiments with adult salmon, scientist says, suggest they may smell their way back to their home streams from the ocean.

Dr. A. D. Hasler, University of Wisconsin, told a meeting of marine biologists that salmon with their smelling organs plugged appeared confused.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — When Henry A. Stetson relaxes to smoke a pipeful of tobacco, he's relaxed for a good long time.

His 80-year-old pipe, a Meerschaum bought for his uncle back in the 19th century, holds 14½ ounces — nearly a full can of tobacco.

INDIAN COPPER STORY BEGINS ABOUT 5000 B.C.

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan copper, dug from bed rock by prehistoric Indians, was being used as far west as Oklahoma and as far south as Florida at the time of Christ.

It's a story that begins at least 7,000 years ago when Indians canoed from the mainland to Isle Royale. Today, thousands of pits, covered by soil and vegetation, are all that is left of their industry.

University of Michigan researchers, using the carbon-dating process, have found two new samples from one of the excavated pits. Their scientific detective work sets the time as about 4,000 years ago.

Finds Charcoal

Earlier work at the University of Chicago dated copper implements, found at Oconto, Wis., back to 5,000 B.C. The copper apparently came from Michigan's Isle Royale pits, and from pits on the Keewenaw peninsula.

The latest date-fixing began when Prof. Roy Drier of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton found a piece of charcoal and a part of a tree limb in one of the pits. The charcoal is 3,000 years old, carbon-dating tests showed. The tree limb is 3,800 years old.

Drs. James B. Griffin and Albert C. Spauling, archeologists, say prehistoric Indians, living on the mainland, traveled to Isle Royale in the summer to dig the copper from out-croppings. To get it out of the rock, they built big fires in the pits, then doused them with water. The rapid change in temperature would crack the rock. Then, with stone tools, they could free the copper.

Through trade and barter, the copper reached other areas.

MAINE TOWN WAGES BATTLE OF THE SEXES

A recent town meeting in this rural community of 828 residents marked the 25th anniversary of sex segregation at governmental sessions in the tiny town hall on the shore of picturesque Lake Keoka.

For some unexplained reason the first group of women to attend a business session in town hall here, turned to the right when they entered the unpapered, plasterwall room and seated themselves on the hard wooden benches running lengthwise of the building.

Dividing Line

The men remained on the left side of a box-stove placed in the exact center of the meeting hall. From the stove to one end of the building ran a lengthy stovepipe which apparently served as the dividing line.

Only once during the past quarter of a century did the women have the temerity to break the unexplainable tradition. That was when they were fighting among themselves so fiercely that they had no other choice.

Back in the late 40's, mothers of Waterford City—the town's center—demanded that a planned consolidated school be built before the "City" and a village end of the town called the "Flat."

The "Flat" women wanted the school erected between their village and North Waterford. The situation was so tense that the two groups didn't even speak to each other. A special town meeting was called.

Arrive Early

On the morning of the big session the "City" women arrived bright and early and took their accustomed seats on the distaff side of the room.

Arriving in a body shortly thereafter, the "Flat" women decided they would rather mingle with the men than sit with their opponents. They filed to the left.

The "City" folks lost their battle after a torrid discussion. The school was built between the "Flat" and North Waterford in 1949.

Now things are back to normal —and sex segregation prevails in Waterford.

Well Water Heated By Short In Motor

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Accardi's well suddenly began giving hot water and all kinds of theories were advanced, including one that her house was located over a hot spring.

But Henry Teare, the man who installed the well pump, was called in and quickly discovered a short in the pump motor was sending electricity through the water and heating it, sometimes to a temperature as high as 105 degrees.

NATIVE LANGUAGE

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Iowa officials weren't able to help a Dallas, Texas, school girl with her Latin class project. She said her class was seeking to prove Latin isn't a "dead language," and asked a picture of the Iowa seal "containing a Latin motto."

Gov. Leo Hoegh sent Marcia a picture of the Iowa seal, but it didn't help much. The Iowa motto, "Our rights we prize and our liberties we will maintain," is in English.

A ROSE A DAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Sen. Kerr Scott (D-NC) will receive 366 roses for his lapel this year. The six girls on his Washington staff ordered a bud a day as his Christmas gift.

CIGARS CALLED FOR

BLOOMFIELD, N. M. (AP)—Louie Faverino has been buying a lot of cigars. He was appointed mayor to fill the unexpired term of Jack Waller, who resigned. The next day he became the father of a seven-pound son.

61-FOOT SHOT TOP GOAL OF BILL NIEDER

By SKIPPER PATRICK

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Mild-mannered Bill Nieder, the greatest collegiate shot put man in history, intends to consistently break 60-feet with the 16-pound shot by the time the next frost falls.

The 220-pound University of Kansas senior figures that sort of work will earn him a berth on the United States' team in the Olympics at Melbourne next winter.

Nieder reached 60 feet 3 inches in a Kansas-Oklahoma dual April 14. He's bettered 59 feet in every meet since last winter.

Topped By O'Brien

Only the great Parry O'Brien, former University of Southern California ace now competing for the Travis (Calif.) Air Force Base, tops the husky, 22-year-old Lawrence native in exploiting the shot. O'Brien holds the official world record of 60 feet 10 and has an indoor, leather-covered ball shot of 61 feet 5½.

Nieder excelled O'Brien's national collegiate record of 59 feet 2¼ with a toss of 59 feet 9¼ in the Big Seven indoor meet last March. He beat it again in the Texas and Kansas relays.

"I don't know for sure just how far I can put," Nieder says. "But I am sure I haven't reached my peak. I believe I can get it around 61 feet, maybe 62 before Olympic time."

National School Mark

Nieder got into the shot put business by accident. He just "picked up" the ball one day while a junior at Lawrence High School and "thtrew the thing" 41 feet. The next spring, 1952, Nieder put the 12-pound ball 60 feet 9, inches for a national high school record.

A knee injury suffered in Kansas' opening football game with Texas Christian in 1953 ended a promising grid career for Nieder. An operation of the torn knee ligaments cost him most of his 1954 track activity.

Bill is married to his high school sweetheart, the former Sue Wright. The couple has one child, 5-month-old Connie. She's same weight as the ball — 16 pounds.

SCHOOL TEACHES MISSIONARIES NEW TECHNIQUES

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The modern missionary, like anyone else with a product to sell, needs training in modern techniques.

This, in essence, is the goal of the Carver School of Missions and Social Work, one of the few Protestant schools of its kind in the United States.

The school, primarily for women, takes in students of all races, nationalities and cultures. It is owned and directed by the Woman's Missionary Union, an auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention.

Since 1907, when it was founded the school has trained 4,000 students from every state in the Union and many foreign countries.

Serve As Missionaries

Of these, 389 have served as missionaires in foreign lands.

Leaders of the school say it has a two-fold purpose.

First, there is a need for advanced missionary training and preparation in the fields of linguistics, phonetics, human relations and anthropology.

Second, there is a growing need for Christian workers who are equipped to handle the problems of child and family welfare, delinquency, alcoholism and drug addiction.

The school also trains social workers for assignments on church staffs, in community centers and in hospitals.

Quite An Order

President Emily K. Lansdell admits this is quite an order. And she has the experience to understand these problems.

Born in Hephzibah, Ga., she received training at Carver, Yale and Duke. In 1946 she went to the University of Shanghai, where she taught English for three years. She returned to the States and, in 1951, was named president of the Carver School.

This is how Miss Lansdell explains and justifies the need for training missionaries: "If we admit that the prime objective of the school is to train missionaries, we must explain that we want to train people to 'communicate the Christian message.'"

One of the biggest problems of the modern missionary is how to interpret Christian ideals to people belonging to different culture patterns. As Miss Lansdell explains it:

No Simple Task

"How to communicate the Gospel effectively is not so simple, particularly for the American who ventures overseas during these days of revolution and reconstruction."

Although Christianity was born in the East, she says, it developed in the Western nations and appropriated Western patterns of thought and behavior.

Too often, Miss Lansdell says, Christianity is tagged "American" or "Western."

Hence, she says, missionaries must be trained so they can show other people that Christianity is "a world religion and the answer for the needs of all peoples."

Almost all the students who come to Carver have completed four years of college training, although about 10 per cent of them enroll for undergraduate courses.

The school, which offers from two to three years of training, is jointly supported by the Woman's Missionary Union and the Southern Baptist Convention.

Public Service Is All In The Family

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — The Grier family is keeping public service in the family.

Robert D. Grier was elected in 1954 as a justice of the peace of Precinct 4. He was a Republican then but switched to Democratic last April — too late to run as a Democrat under the state's new primary law.

So Mrs. Grier filed as a candidate for the post. She has no opposition in either Democratic or Republican parties and will be elected automatically. She is a Republican.

TEN MISTAKES IN HOME DECOR

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Well-meaning housewives who attempt to decorate their own homes make many mistakes, says interior designer Henry End, member of the American Institute of Decorators and designer of hotel interiors. Here are the ten most common mistakes made by amateurs, as he lists them:

1. Lack of coordination.
2. Confused ideas as to requirements.
3. Selection of items individually instead of considering the final effect of the room.
4. Choice of colors by personality whims.
5. Planning an interior that does not fit the exterior — for instance, early American decor in a modern house.
6. Changing their minds in the middle of the plan.
7. Failure to consider maintenance problems in selection of fabrics.
8. Trying to impress the neighbors instead of pleasing themselves.
9. Failure to consider natural lighting conditions in planning colors.
10. Lack of confidence in their own taste.

Hence, she says, missionaries must be trained so they can show other people that Christianity is "a world religion and the answer for the needs of all peoples."

Almost all the students who come to Carver have completed four years of college training, although about 10 per cent of them enroll for undergraduate courses.

The school, which offers from two to three years of training, is jointly supported by the Woman's Missionary Union and the Southern Baptist Convention.

Public Service Is All In The Family

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — The Grier family is keeping public service in the family.

Robert D. Grier was elected in 1954 as a justice of the peace of Precinct 4. He was a Republican then but switched to Democratic last April — too late to run as a Democrat under the state's new primary law.

So Mrs. Grier filed as a candidate for the post. She has no opposition in either Democratic or Republican parties and will be elected automatically. She is a Republican.

TEN MISTAKES IN HOME DECOR

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Well-meaning housewives who attempt to decorate their own homes make many mistakes, says interior designer Henry End, member of the American Institute of Decorators and designer of hotel interiors. Here are the ten most common mistakes made by amateurs, as he lists them:

1. Lack of coordination.
2. Confused ideas as to requirements.
3. Selection of items individually instead of considering the final effect of the room.
4. Choice of colors by personality whims.
5. Planning an interior that does not fit the exterior — for instance, early American decor in a modern house.
6. Changing their minds in the middle of the plan.
7. Failure to consider maintenance problems in selection of fabrics.
8. Trying to impress the neighbors instead of pleasing themselves.
9. Failure to consider natural lighting conditions in planning colors.
10. Lack of confidence in their own taste.

COAL INDUSTRY ON BRINK OF "GOLDEN YEARS"

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the once-ailing coal industry were told Wednesday it may be entering its "golden years."

President L. C. Campbell said in remarks prepared for opening of the National Coal Assn. convention that coal's quick recovery from its doldrums two years ago may herald a new era.

Campbell said "increasing awareness on the part of the coal industry itself, as well as federal and state governments, transportation interests and coal's customers," brought renewed hope.

Campbell noted that coal production increased from 392 million tons in 1954 to 470 million in 1955. He spoke of predictions of a 500 to 520 million ton total this year.

Cites "Challenge"

Saying that increasing demands for coal are a "challenge to the industry," he cautioned that "in a vast extractive industry like the coal industry, replacement of plant, obsolescent equipment, and expansion of capacity must be met with adequate financial return."

Campbell said the absence of industrywide coal strikes has helped the industry make its supply dependable. He applauded union efforts to end local wildcat strikes as "a healthy gesture for the security of jobs in the industry."

In another prepared address, Tom Pickett, executive vice president of the association, said the coal industry can expect to share fully in the rapidly expanding market for energy.

Has Vast Reserves

"Coal's vast reserves, far exceeding those of competitive fuels, are expected to supply an increasing share of the energy requirements to power the nation's progress," Pickett said.

Pickett said coal's future is brightened by a growing need for energy for electric generation, for steel production, for general industry, and the demand for coal as a raw material for chemicals and synthetics, and for conversion into liquid and gas.

Forest Fire Plan Is Lauded By Duff

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-approved bill to permit a compact among Middle Atlantic states to fight forest fires was described today as an important conservation measure.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa), who offered the bill, said the compact would aid materially in fire protection work in the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey.

"It will be a big step forward in conservation," he said.

EX-GOVERNOR DIES

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Joseph B. Ely, Democratic governor of Massachusetts from 1930 through 1934, died early today at his home.

CRACKDOWN IN PHILA. ORDERED

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons was reported Wednesday to have received a confidential report containing charges that some policemen have been accepting bribes—allegedly totaling about $168,000 a year—to protect gamblers.

The Philadelphia Bulletin said the report to Gibbons was based on information from underworld sources "and came from an outside source friendly to Gibbons."

Gibbons, on the basis of the report, ordered "an intensive crackdown on the rackets," according to The Bulletin and appointed a special squad operating out of his office to handle the matter.

An aide in the commissioner's office confirmed that a new "commissioner's squad" had been formed under the leadership of Lt. Joseph O'Neill and Sgt. Raymond Murphy but declined to spell out their specific assignment.

State Peach Crop To Be Under 1955

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Agriculture Department Wednesday estimated Pennsylvania's peach crop this year will be 450,000 bushels below the harvest of the 1955 season.

The department set the estimated crop at 2,450,000 bushels. This figure, though below last year, is above the 10-year average production by 139,000 bushels.

Two thirds of the 1,052,000 people in New York City over 65 years old have incomes under $3,000 a year.

Say 'Female Rasputin' Caused Rift Between Queen, Hubby

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Has a 61-year-old spinster faith healer caused a rift between Queen Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard?

Dutch leaders wouldn't comment today on the question raised by a story in a German magazine, which says the faith healer came to the palace in 1948 promising to cure the partial blindness of 9-year-old Princess Maria Cristina.

But top government officials expressed concern over the situation. They admitted some embarrassment over the story as it appeared in Der Spiegel of Frankfurt, claiming the royal pair has been estranged since 1950 when Bernhard ordered the healer, Miss Greet Hofmans, to leave the palace because of her growing influence over Juliana.

"Female Rasputin"

Miss Hofmans moved to a house near the palace and has continued to exercise her influence over the Queen, said Der Spiegel, rferring to the woman as "a female Rasputin."

Dutch officials have dismissed as nonsense the magazine's assertion that matters of state have been affected by Miss Hofmans' relations with the Queen. They said the Dutch monarch has no independent authority in government affairs.

But the same officials and court circles refused to comment on the report that the Queen and her husband are estranged. Bernhard now is in Stockholm attending the Olympic equestrian games. No comment from him was available.

The Ditmars Books & Magazine Co., distributor of foreign publications in the Netherlands, said it voluntarily had stopped distribution of Der Spiegel this week and had withdrawn two London newspapers Wednesday because of their stories.

But the story has been printed previously in a Dutch Communist newspaper which also carried a full report of the Der Spiegel article.

The story is not an issue in the election of a new lower House of the Dutch Parliament.

MISERY LOVES COMPANY

CONWAY, N.C. (AP) — "Daddy, come kiss me," welcomed four-year-old Barry when father Harry Jenkins came home from work.

Daddy obliged. Then Barry told his daddy that the doctor had left only a short while before. "Daddy, I've got the mumps." So has Barry's twin brother, Larry.

Today, the twins have daddy at home with them—all three pairs of jaws swollen with mumps.

RUTH, RUTH 'N RUTH

RUTH, Nev. (AP)—Miss Ruth Antonsen and Stanley C. Ruth drove from The Dalles, Ore., to be married here. That was so Miss Antonsen could become Mrs. Ruth Ruth in Ruth.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Landlord Andrew Hibyan found a way to make his four tenant families keep their apartments clean. "I got tired of running down to city hall for sanitation violations, so I told the families their rent would be raised $2 a week until the last fine, $32, was paid."

TOP OFFICIALS NOT IN ACCORD ON NEUTRALITY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like a tailor who thinks the suit's too big, Secretary of State Dulles walked briskly up to the subject of neutrality and went snip, snip. None of this neutrality stuff for him.

"Immoral," he said. "Shortsighted." But this suit had been made by President Eisenhower. And Vice President Nixon put the pockets on it. Eisenhower had defended the right of nations to be neutral. Nixon said such nations are "our moral equals."

This had caused confusion. Where did it leave those nations which had lined up with the United States? Then Dulles apparently thought he'd straighten it out. Instead of lessening the confusion, he added to it.

President's Views

On June 6, a few hours before the House started debate on Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill, the President walked into his news conference and made a little speech defending the bill. He used no notes.

There had been discontent in Congress over helping neutrals in the cold war. Then, as if urging Congress not to be too harsh on them, Eisenhower said that if a nation stays neutral and is attacked, the world is outraged. But if it gets into a military alliance and is then attacked, the world may say it had what was coming to it, Eisenhower said.

This was startling. The United States had spent much time and money trying to persuade nations in Europe and Asia to join military pacts with this country. Was Eisenhower now saying they were wrong when they joined?

Aides Explain

It didn't take long for Eisenhower's White House aides to try to explain what he meant. A statement issued the next day said that while Eisenhower thinks some nations are justified in being neutral, he thinks they'd be safer being U.S. allies.

That night, June 7, Nixon made a speech showing the same tolerance toward neutrals. He tried to explain why they want to be neutral. Speaking of them, he said "we must deal with other people as our moral and spiritual equals."

But Dulles didn't show any tolerance for neutrals when he made a prepared speech in Iowa June 9. He said the 42 treaties this country has with other nations "abolish, as between the parties, the principle of neutrality, which pretends that a nation can best gain safety for itself by being indifferent to the fate of others."

He added: "This has increasingly become an obsolete conception and, except under very unusual circumstances, i is an immoral and shortsighted conception."

This seemed like an absolute contradiction of what Eisenhower and Nixon had said. But when Dulles was quizzed about it at his news conference Tuesday, all he seemed able to say was that he saw no conflict between his views and Eisenhower's. Newsmen gave up when they asked him flatly if he agreed with Eisenhower and they got the same answer.

Nylon was first publicly announced in 1938.

Can Remove Cover

One chair molded of glass fibre and plastic into a lounge shape is upholstered with foam plastic that has a removable fabric contour cover. Another sleek occasional chair in Danish styling has seat and back shields of heavy gauge white vinyl. The sofas and lounge chairs in this line are covered in plastic of decorator shades such as cerulean blue or persimmon.

Molded dining chairs have a charming builtin texture of burlap sealed within glass fibres and polyester plastic resins.

Terrace tables of hard plastic have marble chips buried within. George Nelson's room divider is a series of horizontal poles on which he has hung styrene plastic bowls to hold growing plants. Bowls may be taken down for watering.

One charming table top is a harlequin pattern in black and white that would be at home with any decor. Washable upholstery available as head boards is set flush in exposed wood frames or sprinkled with gold stars.

And no end of plastic planning has gone into the nursery. Everything from furniture to bath basins and bathinettes offer the easy-does-it theme. Outsize pails and covers of matching plastic are other style notes.

The Boston Red Sox have five coaches — Jack Burns, Del Baker, Paul Schreiber, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Owen.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Thieves stole a garbage can from Delores Azoyon's house one night, then came back on the next night and took a barbecue grill.

Emboldened, they returned the third night and stole the watchdog, a $250 French poodle.

HOUSE EXPLODES KILLING 1 MAN, 14 ARE INJURED

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An explosion that burst out two sides of a Cincinnati apartment house from cellar to roof late Tuesday night killed one man and injured 14 other persons, three of them critically.

The body of Robert Swarts, 31, was found in the wreckage. He had been in the basement when the blast went off.

Among the seriously injured was a 2-month-old baby, Dorothy Miller, who was blown out of her crib. Her skull was fractured.

2 Others Critical

Aides at General Hospital identified the other two critically injured as Buddy Marrs, 25, and Mike Riley, 48.

The blast piled up a hill of rubble behind the four-story brick and frame building in which seven families lived.

The explosion was heard over several miles around the building on Reading Road—which also is U.S. 42, a main route to Cincinnati.

Caused By Boiler

Fire officials said it was likely much of the rest of the building would collapse.

Ed Bowling, caretaker of the building, said the explosion was directly under his first-floor apartment and apparently was caused by the basement boiler.

He was not injured, but his wife was taken to the hospital.

Big Jump In Federal Tax Collections Here

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Federal tax collections for the first 10 months of the fiscal year ending June 30, have increased more than $289,000,000 over the same period of last year in the 22-county Philadelphia area.

Edgar A. McGinnes, district director of the local Internal Revenue Service, said Tuesday that receipts from all types of taxes during the 10-month period amounted to $2,023,525,685. The figure represents collections from the 22 counties in the Philadelphia area, including Delaware, southeastern Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey.

SPARE YOUR TROUT HEAD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A new ruling of the Arizona Fish and Game Commission requires that either a fish's head or tail must be left on until the angler gets it home.

Reason: Many fishermen had been cutting up fillets before they started home. A rainbow trout fillet looks just about the same as a Verde trout fillet, even to a game ranger. But there is a bag limit of 10 on a rainbow, none on a Verde, which is a trash fish.

World production of opium is about 2,000 tons annually.

EVICTED FROM JAIL

DENVER (AP) — A prisoner was tossed out of city jail for being drunk. He was assigned to sweeping the sidewalk in front of the police building. Sympathetic passerby gave him a bottle of wine and when it was time to return to his cell, the prisioner was in him to county jail and took away drunk and they put in you jail," mused the prisoner, "You get drunk and they throw you out."

FABRICS PASS COLLEGE TESTS

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (AP) — Fabrics advertised as crease-resistant actually do resist creases, Michigan State University textile researchers discovered.

The skeptical researchers put the fabrics through more than 25 launderings in an automatic washer with the water at a temperature of 140 degrees, using a synthetic detergent.

They found that although there was some loss of finish in the laundering, the treated fabrics remained crease-resistant throughout the study.

To make the test, both treated and untreated fabrics were purchased from retail stores. Fabrics tested included crease-resistant voiles, permanent crisp, powder puff muslins, crease-resistant novelty gighams, iridescent chambrays, striped seersuckers and glazed moire, crease-resistant cottons.

Fabrics with the crease-resistant finished cost 30 to 60 cents a yard more than those without the finish.

HOUSE EXPLODES KILLING 1 MAN, 14 ARE INJURED

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An explosion that burst out two sides of a Cincinnati apartment house from cellar to roof late Tuesday night killed one man and injured 14 other persons, three of them critically.

The body of Robert Swarts, 31, was found in the wreckage. He had been in the basement when the blast went off.

Among the seriously injured was a 2-month-old baby, Dorothy Miller, who was blown out of her crib. Her skull was fractured.

2 Others Critical

Aides at General Hospital identified the other two critically injured as Buddy Marrs, 25, and Mike Riley, 48.

The blast piled up a hill of rubble behind the four-story brick and frame building in which seven families lived.

The explosion was heard over several miles around the building on Reading Road—which also is U.S. 42, a main route to Cincinnati.

Caused By Boiler

Fire officials said it was likely much of the rest of the building would collapse.

Ed Bowling, caretaker of the building, said the explosion was directly under his first-floor apartment and apparently was caused by the basement boiler.

He was not injured, but his wife was taken to the hospital.

Big Jump In Federal Tax Collections Here

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Federal tax collections for the first 10 months of the fiscal year ending June 30, have increased more than $289,000,000 over the same period of last year in the 22-county Philadelphia area.

Edgar A. McGinnes, district director of the local Internal Revenue Service, said Tuesday that receipts from all types of taxes during the 10-month period amounted to $2,023,525,685. The figure represents collections from the 22 counties in the Philadelphia area, including Delaware, southeastern Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey.

SPARE YOUR TROUT HEAD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A new ruling of the Arizona Fish and Game Commission requires that either a fish's head or tail must be left on until the angler gets it home.

Reason: Many fishermen had been cutting up fillets before they started home. A rainbow trout fillet looks just about the same as a Verde trout fillet, even to a game ranger. But there is a bag limit of 10 on a rainbow, none on a Verde, which is a trash fish.

EVICTED FROM JAIL

DENVER (AP) — A prisoner was tossed out of city jail for being drunk. He was assigned to sweeping the sidewalk in front of the police building. Sympathetic passerby gave him a bottle of wine and when it was time to return to his cell, the prisioner was in- him to county jail and took away drunk and they put in you jail," mused the prisoner, "You get drunk and they throw you out."

KNOWLAND MAY VOTE INCREASE IN FOREIGN AID

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Support from Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) raised administration hopes today for restoring some of the big cut the House made in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Whether a majority of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would approve the 600 million dollar minimum increase urged by the White House was uncertain as Chairman George (D-Ga) called members back into session to start voting.

George has taken the leadership in a drive to restore 500 millions of the House cuts, or half of the amount lopped from military assistance funds.

Including the billion-dollar cut in military aid funds, the House cut a total of $1,104,000,000 from the $4,900,000,000 Eisenhower asked, despite protests from both Republican and Democratic leaders in that body.

Emerging from yesterday's two closed committee sessions, Knowland, who frequently disagrees with some aspects of Eisenhower administration foreign policy, told reporters:

Favors Increase

"My belief is that a strong case has been and is being made that would warrant voting more than the House had in its bill."

He would not say whether he thinks the administration case is strong enough to warrant a bill authorizing something "between the $3,800,000,000 House figure and the original amount sought by the administration."

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson (Tex.) had said earlier yesterday that the administration "is going to have to make a case" for an increase.

"If it makes a case, fortifies the testimony its officials gave in the House, the Senate will do what is best for the country," Johnson declared.

Knowland indicated the committee is asking the administration to give full information on its spending plans, saying, "We recognize that this problem is the responsibility of all the members of the Senate, and we want to be able to give them as complete a picture as possible."

UNION PONDERS NEW PROPOSAL

NEW YORK (AP)—Union officials will spend today considering a counter-offer by the "Big Three" steel firms. Management proposals, while not made public, were understood to contain a wage raise and provisions for layoff pay.

Officials of the United Steelworkers of America have been meeting here since June 5 with a management team representing United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel.

Union and company negotiators spent two hours yesterday going over the company proposals and then announced at a news conference they were recessing contract talks until tomorrow afternoon.

David J. McDonald, union head, asked if he felt "cheered or disappointed" at the company offer, said he had no comment.

But McDonald added there was a possibility an agreement could be reached by Sunday—far ahead of the contract expiration date of June 30.

A union decision on the management offer is expected to be reached at a meeting of its 170-member wage policy committee here tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The second boy, Larry Miller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, summoned help after digging his way out. He was not injured.

The boys had been playing at the base of the cinder pile on property of the R. A. Davis Coal Co.

BRIDEGROOM FALLS TO DEATH

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — President Airline officials were trying to find out today how a honeymooning bridegroom happened to drop to his death from a plane more than a mile in the air.

The victim, identified as Oren A. Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, was said by neighbors to have been married Tuesday — just a day before his death — to Blande Tidd, also of Charlotte. The neighbors said the couple was honeymooning.

Pruitt's body — described by police as "broken all to pieces" — was found in a church graveyard near Shelby after he plummeted from the plane while it was flying at an estimated 6,000 feet.

John Newell, Pedimont's agent here, said Pruitt apparently was swept out of the plane when a cabin door opened unexpectedly as he was walking toward the men's room in the rear. Newell said it probably would not be known until sometime today why the door flew open.

LUKEWARM BATH SOOTHES NERVES

The Associated Press

If you're not up to sulphur and molasses, try relaxation to help foil springtime's low ebb.

The daily bath is one of the most soothing treatments at hand for frayed nerves. Business girls will find it the perfect set-up before an evening date. Housewives may indulge while Junior and Sis are at school or napping.

If the housewife doesn't want to spare the time for this interlude in the busy day, she can justify it by doing a few chores while she bathes.

Use Pillow

may be planned in the tub, market lists may be organized and company menus planned.

Before climbing in to your nice lather of suds scented with bath oil if you have it, organize the things you'll need for your relaxing session.

Suction-cup a foam rubber bath pillow to the tub so it will fit under your head and shoulders. A real luxury but fun if you can afford it. Use a bath tray if you have one to hold such things as pad and pencil, morning paper, magazine, novel. Most women enjoy including an-above-the shoulder beauty treatment too, so be sure neck and face cream and pins for your hair are at hand.

A better plan however, is to apply all the goo to neck and face before you step into the tub. Hair could be pincurled and wrapped tightly with a bandanna. In the tub then concentrate on sluffing off grime. Rub your bathbrush with soap and whip up a good lather of suds over legs, arms and feet. Notice how your skin glows when you've scrubbed energetically.

It's a good idea to keep the bathtub in mind whenever you feel jittery, over-worked, harrassed or ill-tempered. A dip in a tepid tub has a calming effect that is almost instantaneous.

Bathe—Don't Growl

One busy woman says that whenever she feels like growling at the children, she takes a bath instead. Her bath is combined with a tea session. She says there is nothing like a good hot cup of tea while you soak in the tub. It works out fine in her case since she has found that her low ebb is right at tea time — 4 p.m. This relaxation period not only keeps her from scolding the children but puts her in a nice frame of mind for welcoming the man of the house at the end of the day.

BIG DEPOSIT

ALBUQUERQUE N,. M. (AP) — Lee Marmon dropped in at an Albuquerque bank to make a deposit. The teller politely handed him a blank and suggested he fill it out. He did so, right at the window. She gasped. It was a deposit of $153,000. When the teller got her breath back, Marmon, treasurer of the Laguna Tribe, explained the money was from the tribal fund.

Burglar Charged With Mail Fraud

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — William R. Hall, serving 10 years for a liquor store burglary, has been sentenced to an additional two years for mail fraud.

He was charged with issuing bad checks to pay for merchandise ordered by mail. Evidence introduced at his trial showed he gave his address as Apartment 6-A, 1515 Gist St.

That's the street number of the South Carolina penitentiary. And Hall said the 6-A was his cell number.

BRIDEGROOM FALLS TO DEATH

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — President Airline officials were trying to find out today how a honeymooning bridegroom happened to drop to his death from a plane more than a mile in the air.

The victim, identified as Oren A. Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, was said by neighbors to have been married Tuesday — just a day before his death — to Blande Tidd, also of Charlotte The neighbors said the couple was honeymooning.

Pruitt's body — described by police as "broken all to pieces" — was found in a church graveyard near Shelby after he plummeted from the plane while it was flying at an estimated 6,000 feet

John Newell, Pedimont's agent here, said Pruitt apparently was swept out of the plane when a cabin door opened unexpectedly as he was walking toward the men's room in the rear. Newell said it probably would not be known until sometime today why the door flew open.

LUKEWARM BATH SOOTHES NERVES

The Associated Press

If you're not up to sulphur and molasses, try relaxation to help foil springtime's low ebb.

The daily bath is one of the most soothing treatments at hand for frayed nerves. Business girls will find it the perfect set-up before an evening date. Housewives may indulge while Junior and Sis are at school or napping.

If the housewife doesn't want to spare the time for this interlude in the busy day, she can justify it by doing a few chores while she bathes.

Use Pillow

may be planned in the tub, market lists may be organized and company menus planned.

Before climbing in to your nice lather of suds scented with bath oil if you have it, organize the things you'll need for your relaxing session.

when you've scrubbed energetically.

Suction-cup a foam rubber bath pillow to the tub so it will fit under your head and shoulders A real luxury but fun if you can afford it Use a bath tray if you have one to hold such things as pad and pencil, morning paper, magazine, novel. Most women enjoy including an-above-the shoulder beauty treatment too, so be sure neck and face cream and pins for your hair are at hand.

A better plan however, is to apply all the goo to neck and face before you step into the tub. Hair could be pincurled and wrapped tightly with a bandanna. In the tub then concentrate on sluffing off grime. Rub your bathbrush with soap and whip up a good lather of suds over legs, arms and feet. Notice how your skin glows when you've scrubbed energetically

It's a good idea to keep the bathtub in mind whenever you feel jittery, over-worked, harrassed or ill-tempered A dip in a tepid tub has a calming effect that is almost instantaneous

Bathe—Don't Growl

One busy woman says that whenever she feels like growling at the children, she takes a bath instead. Her bath is combined with a tea session. She says there is nothing like a good hot cup of tea while you soak in the tub. It works out fine in her case since she has found that her low ebb is right at tea time — 4 p m. This relaxation period not only keeps her from scolding the children but puts her in a nice frame of mind for welcoming the man of the house at the end of the day

SENATORS AIM TO TURN COURT SECURITY RULE

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) predicted today swift approval by Congress of a bill to plug what he termed "the great hole shot into our internal security" by the Supreme Court.

Mundt and Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) introduced yesterday similar bills designed to negate the court's 6-3 ruling on Monday that the government may not summarily dismiss on security grounds workers whose jobs do not directly concern national security.

Another Republican, former Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, agreed in a separate interview that the Supreme Court "did shoot a hole" in the loyalty-security program, but said it was "right where it should be shot."

Explore Other Cases

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has become a vigorous critic of the security program.

At the end of two days of testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday, one man Cain cited was reoffered a job he had lost on security grounds. And Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the subcommittee he heads will explore other cases which Cain described as injustices or at least questionable.

Cain on Tuesday had termed an example of "fascism" the case of an ex-GI who had lost an American Red Cross job after the Army raised security questions against him.

Last night the Defense Department announced the Red Cross has offered to rehire the man, Irving I. August of Seattle, a World War II and Korean veteran. "I'll be delighted to go back to work," August said in Seattle. He attributed his troubles to what he said was brief membership in the Progressive party in 1948. He said he dropped out because he felt "it was being influenced by Communists."

Will Get Hearing

August said he wants a chance to clear his name. The Pentagon said August, dropped by the Red Cross March 26 when the Army refused to clear him for overseas service, will be given a hearing under its industrial security review system. This applies to workers of civilian contractors doing work for the military.

Mundt told the Senate yesterday his bill's effect would be to assure that "the Reds, the pinks and the punks" are taken off their jobs the minute security charges are filed against them, with opportunity to appeal if they believe the charges are unjust.

The court's decision does not reverse the right of departments and agencies designated by Congress as "sensitive" to fire workers summarily on security grounds. It does make ineffective Eisenhower's 1953 order extending this to all government agencies and departments.

State, County Paid $125,000 To Uphold Death Sentences

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Justice Department today set at $125,000 the estimated court and maintenance costs paid by Pennsylvania and Bucks County during the eight-year litigation of three Philadelphians to escape the electric chair.

The estimate was made only three days after the U.S. Supreme Court turned down an appeal for a new trial by David Darcy, 30, one of the condemned prisoners.

Darcy, Harry Zeitz, 25, and Harold Foster, 30, were convicted of slaying William Kelly, 38, during a holdup of the Feasterville Inn in Bucks County on Dec. 22, 1947.

They have been in the death chamber at Rockview State Penitentiary near Bellefonte since March 31, 1951, but have been given 27 respites from the electric chair while Darcey's appeals moved through the courts. They were first scheduled for execution April 2, 1951.

The U.S. Supreme Court rejected Darcy's latest appeal Monday but Atty. Charles Margiotti, Pittsburgh, said he would again ask the State Pardons Board to commute his client's death sentence to life imprisonment. A previous petition was rejected by the board.

Frank C. Johnston, warden at Rockview, said the condemned men's "morale is surprisingly good" despite the Supreme Court's decision. "It was naturally a setback for them but we are gratified with their attitude and morale."

Barring another reprieve, the three are scheduled to die the week of Oct. 1.

Frank W. Lawley, a deputy attorney general, said the cost of maintaining the three prisoners at Rockview has already amounted to $70,000 since 1951.

During their confinement at Bucks County prison the cost was a "conservative $30,000" over a three-year period, he continued, adding:

"Together with a $25,000 cost to the state for legal expenses in fighting appeals, the total cost for maintaining the prisoners amounts to about $125,000."

He explained that Bucks County is billed $980 a month for three guards who maintain an around-the-clock watch on the convicted slayers in the death chamber.

In addition the county is also billed about $2.50 as the per capita cost of maintaining them.

Breaking the figures down, Lawley estimated the daily cost to Bucks County at about $40.

Lawley said the three "were also taken to court several times but it is just too complicated to offer any estimate of cost in that matter."

Johnston said the three are confined to their death cells except for a brief period daily when they are allowed to exercise in the prison yard.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. representative to the United Nations, said Wednesday the U. S. wants friends and partners on the international scene, not satellites.

In an address prepared for University of Pennsylvania commencement exercises, Lodge said:

"A heartfelt display of friendliness and brotherhood, a sincere appeal to the feeling in every human breast that there is an element of glory for every man in this world—these intangibles can do everything in situations where bombers or dollars can do nothing."

Lodge was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

3 SURVIVORS OF LOST SHIP ARE RESCUED

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Three survivors from the sinking of the tug May Dee, which went down off the Mississippi coast yesterday during a tropical storm, were picked up early today. Four men still were missing.

The tug O. J. Senac, out of Morgan City, La., rescued the three men northwest of the point where the May Dee went down. Last night the tug Cormorant had picked up eight men from the rough waters south of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The 60-foot May Dee, owned by Stevens and Co. Inc., of New Orleans, sank in Grand Island Channel, about ten miles east of the Mississippi line as Gulf tides reached their highest point since the disastrous hurricane of 1947.

Clay Calhoun, general manager of the Stevens firm, said the May Dee went down while trying to rescue seven men from a barge.

Ship Was Swamped

The May Dee was swamped and its eight-man crew was thrown into the water along with the seven men from the barge.

Calhoun said the names of the 15 men were not immediately available. But the rescued included the May Dee's captain who was not identified.

A radio report monitored by station WGCM at Gulfport from the tug Conrad said the captain was picked up while swimming near a beacon.

A Coast Guard cutter and two other ships continued to search through the night and were joined by two planes and a helicopter at daybreak.

The eight men on the barge wore life jackets, the Coast Guard said.

Other Storm Damage

The barge from which the seven men jumped to the May Dee was equipped with living quarters. It was with the May Dee and another tug on a dredging operation near Cat Island.

The storm moved through the interior of south Mississippi last night, with heavy rains heralding the center. It damaged small boats and piers on the coast between New Orleans and Florida and uprooted trees at Biloxi, Miss.

Winds reached a peak of 52 m.p.h. at Grand Isle, La., about 100 miles south of New Orleans.

Two men were missing and presumed dead when they were thrown into Lake Pontchartrain after their truck jackknifed on the lake bridge during high winds and heavy rains.

Quick supper: a can of tomato spaghetti sauce (meatless) with mushrooms served over cooked rice and sliced hard-cooked eggs.

SENATORS AIM TO TURN COURT SECURITY RULE

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) predicted today swift approval by Congress of a bill to plug what he termed "the great hole shot into our internal security" by the Supreme Court.

Mundt and Sens Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) introduced yesterday similar bills designed to negate the court's 6-3 ruling on Monday that the government may not summarily dismiss on security grounds workers whose jobs do not directly concern national security.

Another Republican, former Sen Harry P. Cain of Washington, agreed in a separate interview that the Supreme Court "did shoot a hole" in the loyalty-security program, but said it was "right where it should be shot"

Explore Other Cases

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has become a vigorous critic of the security program.

At the end of two days of testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday, one man Cain cited was reoffered a job he had lost on security grounds. And Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the subcommittee he heads will explore other cases which Cain described as injustices or at least questionable

Cain on Tuesday had termed an example of "fascism" the case of an ex-GI who had lost an American Red Cross job after the Army raised security questions against him.

Last night the Defense Department announced the Red Cross has offered to rehire the man. Irving I. August of Seattle a World War II and Korean veteran "I'll be delighted to go back to work" August said in Seattle He attributed his troubles to what he said was brief membership in the Progressive party in 1948 He said he dropped out because he felt "it was being influenced by Communists"

Will Get Hearing

August said he wants a chance to clear his name. The Pentagon said August, dropped by the Red Cross March 26 when the Army refused to clear him for overseas service, will be given a hearing under its industrial security review system. This applies to workers of civilian contractors doing work for the military.

Mundt told the Senate yesterday his bill's effect would be to assure that "the Reds, the pinks and the punks" are taken off their jobs the minute security charges are filed against them, with opportunity to appeal if they believe the charges are unjust

The court's decision does not reverse the right of departments and agencies designated by Congress as "sensitive" to fire workers summarily on security grounds It does make ineffective Eisenhower's 1953 order extending this to all government agencies and departments.

State, County Paid $125,000 To Uphold Death Sentences

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Justice Department today set at $125 000 the estimated court and maintenance costs paid by Pennsylvania and Bucks County during the eight-year litigation of three Philadelphians to escape the electric chair

The estimate was made only three days after the U S Supreme Court turned down an appeal for a new trial by David Darcy 30 one of the condemned prisoners

Darcy Harry Zeitz 25 and Harold Foste: 30, were convicted of slaying William Kelly 38, during a holdup of the Feasterville Inn in Bucks County on Dec. 22, 1947

They have been in the death chamber at Rockview State Penitentiary near Bellefonte since March 31 1951, but have been given 27 respites from the electric chair while Darcey's appeals moved through the courts. They were first scheduled for execution April 2, 1951

The U S Supreme Court rejected Darcy's latest appeal Monday but Atty Charles Margiotti, Pittsburgh, said he would again ask the State Pardons Board to commute his client's death sentence to life imprisonment. A previous petition was rejected by the board.

Frank C. Johnston, warden at Rockview, said the condemned men's "morale is surprisingly good" despite the Supreme Court's decision. "It was naturally a setback for them but we are gratified with their attitude and morale"

Barring another reprieve, the three are scheduled to die the week of Oct. 1

Frank W Lawley, a deputy attorney general, said the cost of maintaining the three prisoners at Rockview has already amounted to $70 000 since 1951.

During their confinement at Bucks County prison the cost was a "conservative $30.000" over a three-year period, he continued, adding:

"Together with a $25.000 cost to the state for legal expenses in fighting appeals, the total cost for maintaining the prisoners amounts to about $125 000"

He explained that Bucks County is billed $980 a month for three guards who maintain an around-the-clock watch on the convicted slayers in the death chamber

In addition the county is also billed about $2 50 as the per capita cost of maintaining them

Breaking he figures down Lawley estimated the cost to Bucks County at about $40

Lawley said the three were also taken to court several times but it is just too complicated to offer any estimate of cost in that matter"

Johnston said the three are confined to their death cells except for a brief period each day when they are allowed to exercise in the prison yard

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U S. representative to the United Nations, said Wednesday the U S wants friends and partners on the international scene, not satellites

In an address prepared for University of Pennsylvania commencement exercises, Lodge said: "A heartfelt display of friendliness and brotherhood, a sincere appeal to the feeling in every human breast that there is an element of glory for every man in this world—these intangibles can do everything in situations where bombers or dollars can do nothing"

Lodge was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

BIG STAR AT SHERMAN'S

VAN HEUSEN CENTURY SHIRT

with the revolutionary new soft collar that

WON'T WRINKLE EVER!

White $3.95

Others $2.95

A top performer — it's America's fastest growing shirt—it's completely different. The Van Heusen Century soft collar is woven in one single piece... can't wrinkle, wilt or crumple ...never needs starch or stays. Completely different in the laundry, too. Just iron the collar flat, flip it, and it folds perfectly every time — the foldline is woven right in. Van Heusen Century shirts wear up to twice as long as ordinary shirts yet cost no more.
